MINISTERS DECIDE TO LEAVE ITALY BASIC FLEET

American Who Grew Great In Suffering Succumbs In China

Interpretation By

James D. White

(Associated Press War Analyst)

A distinguished American has died in China.

None who knew Dr. Amadeus William Grabau can ever forget the way his brilliant mind roamed through the ages of the earth. None can forget the students who sat goggle-eyed through his lectures, or the agonies his huge and formless body suffered from arthritis.

This Wisconsin-born geologist, trained at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Rensselaer Polytechnical Institute, Harvard and Columbia, went to China in 1920 at the age of 50 to be chief paleontologist for the Chinese geological survey. His students at Peking University paid him every mark of reverence seldom given to a foreigner. There are few Chinese scientists who don't regard him as something of a patron saint.

Grabau led an expedition into central Asia, and wrote textbooks on rocks and fossils which still are stranded around the world. Then arthritis condemned him to a wheelchair for 15 years. That was when he really got going.

His students would come to his little house in Bean Spout Alley in Peiping, lugging their fossil samples for the suffering master to see. He would enthrall them for hours with his romantic talks on the way fossils and rocks around the world tell its timeless history.

He sat in the middle of a fantistic array of books, journals and manuscripts piled to the ceiling, knowing exactly where each one was. He would fret at a student or servant who couldn't immediately locate "the 19th book from the top of the fifth pile from the end."

His hands were twisted so he could scarcely write; his body ached in every joint, yet Grabau wrote more than 500 articles besides his long texts and exhaustive studies. Taking the new information on Chinese rocks and fossils he and his students gathered, he linked them with other facts from all over the world and evolved radical theories on terrestrial and human history.

One was his pulsation theory which claimed a regular "rhythm of the ages" in the way the sea has repeatedly flooded land areas. Top geologists don't accept it, but one says "you've got to respect the theories of a man like Grabau."

He also suggested the Asiatic origin of mankind, holding that from the evidence of Peking Man and other new finds it was probable that Homo Sapiens became sapient because of the Himalaya mountains—when the earth's last great upheaval forced man's ancestors to get down out of the trees and begin to use their thumbs and walk on their hind legs in a colder, more rugged life.

No poor student, artist or scientist ever came to Grabau for help without getting it. He hated only militaristic Japanese.

When they took Peiping in 1937, the old man swore he would never leave his house again. His own kindness fooled him. A refugee doctor he had befriended worked 100 pounds off his swollen body and relieved his arthritis. For the first time in 15 years Grabau could walk—with a cane. On July 4, 1941, he walked into an American embassy reception to the amazement of a community who had given him up as a hopeless invalid.

At 71 he married his nurse.

Then the Japanese interned him for four years, and it was too much.

He died recently in a new house which his grateful Chinese students had bought for him.

HEALY DESCRIBES DEMOCRACY TEST

BATON ROUGE, La., April 27.—(AP)—"The real test of a democracy is this: Can the weak speak out against the strong?" George W. Healy, Jr., managing editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, told editors of Louisiana industrial and employe publications here tonight.

The editors, meeting here with other members of the printing business, in their first annual session, spent the day discussing problems connected with industrial publications.

"The only way we can have peace," Healy declared, "is for the enlightened peoples of the world to know each other and the best way for them to know each other is through the medium of free expression."

International understanding, he said, "will not be built upon a barrage of words sent around the world by the British ministry of information or the U. S. successor to the office of war information."

MORRISON GUESTS TO GET NO BREAD

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—(AP)—Guests at the dinner May 6 celebrating the inauguration of De Lesseps S. Morrison as mayor of New Orleans will get no bread.

Morrison aides said bread was eliminated from the menu in response to the appeal of President Truman, UNRRA and Herbert Hoover for civilian conservation of wheat, and in hopes of setting an example for similar public gatherings.

Holds All Tel Aviv To Blame In Deaths

Responsible In 'Willful And Brutal Murder' Of British Soldiers

JERUSALEM, April 27.—(AP)—A top-ranking British military authority said tonight he was holding the entire community of Tel Aviv responsible for the "wilful and brutal murder" of seven British soldiers in a raid on a British military installation here Thursday.

Maj. Gen. A. J. M. Cassels, commanding officer of the British Sixth airborne division, summoned the acting mayor of the Jewish City Elieser Persion, to his headquarters and said he had decided to "restrict the whole community in order to maintain public security."

"I hold the whole community to blame," Cassels said.

The general ordered an immediate curfew closing Tel Aviv's cafes, restaurants and entertainment places from 8 p. m. to 5 a. m. "until further notice."

He banned motor traffic in two principal districts of Tel Aviv during the curfew hours.

Tel Aviv, an all-Jewish city, is the largest and most modern in Palestine.

Police had been searching for members of a Jewish armed band, including girls, who killed the seven British soldiers at a military car park by throwing hand grenades and placing mines among parked vehicles. A communique said the attack "apparently was designed to cause maximum casualties." Two other British soldiers and ten Jews were injured in the raid.

"There is no doubt whatsoever in my mind that many members of the Tel Aviv community either knew of this project or could have given some warning before it happened," Cassel said, adding:

"Further, I am quite certain that if you as representative of the community of Tel Aviv chose to do so you could produce sufficient information to lead to the arrest of the criminals."

P.-T. A. ACTS ON MANY ISSUES

Wants State Superintendent Appointed By All-Elected Board

SHREVEPORT, La., April 27.—(AP)—The Louisiana Parent-Teacher Association, in the closing session here today of its 22nd annual convention, adopted a statement of policy on 22 state issues and nine national issues.

Heading the list of state legislation endorsed by the group is an amendment changing the method of securing the superintendent of education from that of a state-wide election to that of appointment by an all-elected state board of education.

Two convention speakers, Don. M. Ewing, associate editor of the Shreveport Times, and William J. Dodd, Oakdale, chairman of the P.-T. A. legislative committee, had addressed the group on that subject.

Dodd, in his address at the closing session, urged all P.-T. A. members to back up their endorsement by talking to their representatives and senators.

Concerning teacher retirement, the state P.-T. A. adopted a resolution favoring the following amendments: Equalization to the extent that the minimum allotment monthly paid to retiring teachers should be $75; retirement of all teachers at the age of 70 years (no exceptions); a uniform interchange system among states so desiring that teachers might retain their retirement benefits; pension beginning on the actual date of retirement.

The group also voiced its approval of a strong teachers tenure protective law and adequate salaries for teachers.

Australian Delegate Withdraws Because Of Wife's Illness

COUNSELLOR IN CHARGE TO CARRY OUT SAME POLICIES

NEW YORK, April 27.—(AP)—Australia's peppery delegate, Lt. Col. William R. Hodgson, announced late today he was withdrawing from the United Nations Security Council because of illness in Paris of his wife and that his successor at the council table would carry on his policies without any change.

Hodgson, the prime mover for a unanimous solution of the Spanish deadlock in the council and long a proponent of full documentation on every case before the council, said he would leave by plane for Paris Monday morning.

Hodgson will be succeeded by Paul Hasluck, counsellor in charge of Australia's permanent mission at the United Nations headquarters. He will serve, as Colonel Hodgson has in the month the council has been sitting here, as the representative of the permanent delegate, Dr. Herbert Evatt, Australian foreign minister.

The departure of Colonel Hodgson was not expected to change the picture at Hunter College when the council convenes Monday at 3 p. m. eastern daylight time, to take up the Spanish case which has deadlocked the delegates.

While Colonel Hodgson has frequently called in council debate for the full story of every case, he was carrying out the instructions of his government and he made it clear this afternoon that Hasluck would do the same.

In a statement announcing his impending departure, Colonel Hodgson said the Iran and Spanish questions had delayed his return to his ill wife, Mrs. Murial Hodgson.

"As the course of action regarding both these questions now appears reasonably clear my government has agreed to my leaving for Paris on Monday morning," he said.

The Australian's announcement was made as Mexico took the lead in seeking a solution of the Spanish crisis in the council—but every move ran against the stern Russian opposition to any investigation of Franco Spain.

The council has shelved the Iranian case at least until May 6, with Russia on record as boycotting any further discussion of that matter. In the Spanish case, Hodgson has proposed that a sub-committee of five members of the council study the evidence submitted, make such inquiries as it desires and report back to the council for whatever action the council desires to take.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromkyo, insisting that there is enough evidence already before the council to bolster Poland's charges that Franco Spain is a menace to world peace and is harboring Nazis and war criminals, was reported unchanged in his stand for immediate action by the U. N. He has informed the council in plain terms that investigations do not produce results and that Russia wants results now.

Hodgson said that his decision to return to Paris was made suddenly this afternoon. He said that he was afraid his wife's illness was grave and that he felt he must return.

Hodgson will return to his post as Australian minister to France. His departure will mark the third change in the make-up of the men at the horse-shoe table in the Bronx. Rafael de la Colina, Mexican resident minister in Washington, worked steadily today trying to produce a solution on

HANNEGAN TO SEE TRUMAN ON SHIP

Likely To Discuss Chief Justice And Other Appointments

QUANTICO, Va., April 27.—(AP)—President Truman today invited Robert E. Hannegan to join him aboard the Williamsburg tomorrow, stirring speculation that he may decide soon on Supreme Court and other vacancies which he must fill.

White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said that the President has not discussed the vacancy on the Supreme Court created by Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone's death with his staff, but that this problem "is very much in his mind."

Ross did not link Hannegan's visit with the necessity for naming a new chief justice, but there was every reason to believe the chief executive and the party chairman would talk this over along with other appointments.

The delay in the naming of a three-member economic council to administer the recently enacted employment bill has brought expressions of concern in some quarters. Members of Congress who pushed the measure to passage have made numerous recommendations for the $15,000-a-year posts.

The President also has to select a new nominee for undersecretary of the Navy since Edwin W. Pauley's bitterly fought nomination was withdrawn, and make a number of other appointments.

Associate Justices Robert H. Jackson and William O. Douglas have been most frequently mentioned in speculation over likely successors to Stone as chief justice. War Secretary Robert P. Patterson has been among those mentioned for Stone's membership on the court.

The President spent most of this afternoon in consultation with reconversion director John W. Snyder, who boarded the ship this morning with last-minute information on efforts to end the coal strike.

Snyder told reporters he had no new information on efforts by Labor Secretary Schwellenbach to get United Mine Chief John L. Lewis and the coal operators to resume negotiations in the 27-day old strike.

GRAND JURY PROBE OF WRECK ORDERED

CHICAGO, April 27.—(AP)—A grand jury investigation was ordered today of a Burlington Railroad wreck that killed 44 persons at nearby Naperville as the railroad opened its own inquiry into the worst disaster in the line's history.

The grand jury investigation was ordered by State's Attorney Lee Daniels of DuPage County after railroad officials and train crew members passed up his scheduled inquiry at Naperville to attend the railroad's hearing here.

Daniels, describing the railroad inquiry as "a rehearsal of evidence," interrupted the Chicago hearing to serve subpoenas directing railroad officials and crewmen to appear before the DuPage County grand jury at Wheaton Tuesday.

The prosecutor said earlier at Naperville he was "not entirely satisfied" that W. W. Blaine, 68-year-old engineer on the Burlington's Exposition Flyer, "is to bear the entire blame."

"I believe other angles might be about as much to blame as the engineer's operation," he said.

The Exposition Flyer crashed into the rear of the line's Advance Flyer, when the lead train made an unscheduled stop at Naperville, 28 miles west of here, at 1 p. m. Thursday.

Blaine, who suffered a possible skull fracture, has been charged with manslaughter.

HEARING ON GAS TAX WILL OPEN

May Amount To Preview Of Arguments In Legislature Soon

BATON ROUGE, La., April 27.—(AP)—What may amount to a preview of arguments in the legislature for and against a proposed hike in the state natural gas gathering tax is expected Monday with the opening of a three-day special hearing on the proposal, by the Louisiana Revenue Code commission.

The proposed increase is that from one-half to three cents per 1,000 cubic feet on the gas gatherers, suggested to Gov. Jimmie Davis and the legislature by Col. P. A. Frye, state director of natural gas conservation, as a means of protecting the Louisiana supply of the fuel from export to states where other types of fuel are available.

Sen. H. Alva Brumfield, code commission chairman, said the special hearings were called to afford "all interested persons—natural producers, consumers and the general public—an opportunity to present their views * * *," and that the commission would make a special report to the legislature on the subject.

Frye in his report to the governor said the increase would so raise field prices of natural gas that it would be taken out of competition with coal as fuel in other states; yet not appreciably, if any, hike consumer rates in this state. He estimated that the tax would yield $15,000,000 annually, which he suggested be shared with parishes and cities, and that life of state gas fields would soon be prolonged many years.

Brumfield said the commission already had heard several arguments for

ROXAS IS CHOOSING PHILIPPINES CABINET

MANILA, April 27.—(AP)—Manuel A. Roxas claimed victory today in the Philippines presidential election and began choosing a cabinet as his lead over President Sergio Osmena exceeded 125,000 votes.

Osmena, whose spokesman has charged that Tuesday's election was "stolen," remained silent, but his secretary said the president would issue an official statement next week.

"The keynote of my administration will be justice to everyone and the re-establishment of a reign of law," Roxas said in a statement. "Despite charges of Fascism against me, I am sure I am the greatest champion of democracy."

At a press conference earlier Roxas declared that after Philippines Independence July 4 "I shall co-operate with the foreign policies of the United States in this part of the world and also the policy of the United Nations."

The election commission reported that with more than half the archipelago's 14,238 precincts heard from, Roxas had 850,388 votes to 725,272 for Osmena.

MOSCOW SAYS OLD MISTAKES REPEATED

LONDON, April 27.—(AP)—Describing the United Nations Security Council's handling of the Spanish question as a "duplication of the league of nations' mistake," the Moscow radio said tonight that the Russian people regard the United Nations as a "serious instrument of peace."

"Forming commissions and unnecessary inquiries when firm international action was needed," the commentator added, "was a typical method used by the league of nations."

DAYLIGHT TIME DEBATE GOES ON

Councils Of Two Cities To Vote On Question Tuesday Night

DIVIDED OPINION MAKES HEADS' DECISION HARDER

That now red-hot public question as to whether Monroe and West Monroe should adopt daylight saving time continued to be the main topic of conversation in the two cities this week-end, with hundreds of residents expressing their opinions in persons and in telephone calls to the mayors and members of the two councils.

Through it all, those officials adhered to their decision made at a conference Friday afternoon to vote on the question at a joint meeting to be held at the West Monroe city hall next Tuesday evening. Therefore, Mayors H. H. Benoit and D. C. Golson said Saturday morning no action would be taken on requests from the merchants' committee of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce and the Central Trades and Labor Council Friday night that they issue proclamations declaring daylight saving time in effect at 2 a. m. Monday.

In submitting the request to the mayors the merchants' committee said 55 members favored and 15 opposed the proposed change in time, and a West Monroe merchant who made an unofficial survey there reported 11 retailers for "fast time" and only one opposed. Among the leaders in the fight against setting clocks an hour ahead were pastors of churches of the two cities, who were said to fear Sunday school attendance would be reduced by the change. Other persons lined up against daylight time stressed what they termed the "great confusion" they said would result from the two cities being "an hour ahead" of the towns and rural communities of this trade area, most of the state, train and bus schedules, the post office, Western Union, and hotels, all of which would stay on standard time.

Daylight saving is to be the topic of discussion the Louisiana Public Forum over radio station KNOE from 1:15 to 1:55 p. m. today. In anticipation of a time change here the station will advance its program schedule one hour, starting at 2 a. m. Sunday, James A. Noe said.

Twin City Talks over station KMLB from 12:30 until 12:55 this afternoon also will have time as the subject for discussion. "We are not opposed to daylight saving on a national or a state basis but we do think it would be harmful for this community to be an hour out of step with the surrounding territory it serves," said J. C. Liner, Sr., the station's head. "We are not fighting the merchants' association or anyone else. If they want to open and close their places of business an hour earlier that's quite all right, but let's don't change the clocks. We appealed to the governor to proclaim daylight time for the entire state, but when he did not we went ahead and arranged our program schedules on the basis of standard time."

Names of speakers who will engage in the two Sunday radio discussions of the time change question were not announced in advance.

MANY LOCALITIES ON DAYLIGHT TIME

NEW YORK, April 27.—(AP)—At 2 A. M. tomorrow residents of six eastern states and portions of 19 others deposit one hour in the daylight savings bank.

They turn their clocks forward an hour to 3 A. M., at that time, inaugurating postwar daylight saving time. In most instances the deposit will be returned, without interest, on the last Sunday in September, when the clocks will be turned back to standard time.

States which will observe "fast time" are New Jersey, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont and Connecticut.

Municipalities make their own decisions in New York, West Virginia,

Russia Abandons Demand For Third

Four Nations Will Share Alike After Satisfying Claims Of Yugoslavia And Greece; Some Issues Are Sidestepped

By Joseph Dynan

PARIS, April 27.—(AP)—The Foreign Ministers conference agreed tonight to leave Italy a basic naval fleet and to divide the remainder among the four major powers after satisfying claims of Yugoslavia and Greece for warships, authoritative reports said.

The ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia reached an accord on broad general proportions of the division in a three-hour meeting in which Russia retreated from a previous demand for a third of the fleet, these reports said.

Precise details were not settled at the meeting, the third thus far in the historic conference and said to have been the most cheerful to date.

Part of the session was given over to a discussion of the French-Italian frontier modifications, but no agreement was reached on any of the proposals. The troublesome Trieste and Italian colonial questions had been sidestepped.

Coupled with the announcement in Rome that Russia had not only acceded to the United States proposals for relaxing Italian armistice terms, but had proposed even further modifications, the Soviet action augured well for future dealings on the Italian problem.

There was no clear picture here of the present strength of the Italian navy, and a four-man committee of experts was appointed to determine its composition and allocation.

The Russians were said to be willing to permit Italy to have a navy with possibly four cruisers of the heaviest category. The reduction in their demands apparently was in return for a tacit agreement to forget about ships that the United States and

CHAMBER FIGHTS MORE GAS TAX

Bill To Raise Gathering Rate Called Blow To Industry

A vigorous protest against a proposed increase in the Louisiana gas gathering tax was voiced Saturday by the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce, according to T. H. Scott, chamber president.

The proposed tax would raise the rate on natural gas gathering from one-half to three cents per thousand cubic feet. The purported purpose of the bill is to conserve the state's natural gas resources and the tax is supposed to be absorbed by the gas gathering companies and gas distributors, according to P. A. Frye, director of the state natural gas conservation commission, author of the proposed measure.

It is believed that the increase of two and one-half cents per thousand cubic feet would not and could not be borne by the gathering companies and as a result would be passed on to the consumer. If this occurred, the effect of the tax would be to jeopardize future industrialization of Louisiana and could possibly force present industries employing thousands of people to move out of the state, President T. H. Scott said.

It is estimated that the tax bill of all gas consumers in this parish would be increased from $640,000 to a total of $770,000 if the additional tax becomes another consumer paid tax, Mr. Scott said.

Among purposes of the Chamber of Commerce is the protection of present industry and the securing of industrial expansion in this area.

Natural gas is an important factor in many industrial operations and if the proposed tax is enacted the effect would be to destroy the effective enactment of these purposes, Mr. Scott added.

The Louisiana Revenue Code Commission will conduct a hearing on this matter in Baton Rouge on April 29 and 30. The chamber, in a resolution and exhibits, is opposing any increase in taxes that would adversely affect our present industries and destroy the possibilities of securing new industries in our area, Scott declared.

In a comparison with industrial taxes in this state Arkansas, Texas and Mississippi, Louisiana has the least favorable tax picture. "We cannot afford to increase taxes on business and industry and still maintain confidence in widespread industrialization of Louisiana," Scott said.

UNION PARISH FIGHTS HIGHER GAS RATES

FARMERVILLE, La., April 27.—(Special)—One thousand taxpayers and landowners from Junction City, Lillie, Bernice, Shiloah, Farmerville and Truxno have joined in signing protests against changing the gas gathering tax from one-half cent per thousand cubic feet to three cents per thousand cubic feet, as recently pro-

ANDERSON SEES FLOOD OF WHEAT

Believes Grain Will Pour In When Spring Planting Finished

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson expressed confidence today that there will be "a springtime flood" of wheat from farms to elevators for shipment to the hungry abroad once spring planting chores are over.

Reporting on his trip to the wheat belt with UNRRA Director General Fiorello H. La Guardia, Anderson told a National Farm and Home Hour radio audience that he believed the government's offer of a bonus of 30 cents a bushel for wheat delivered before May 25 will result in 100,000,000 bushels being made available for export during the critical period from now until July 1.

This is approximately the goal for that period.

But Anderson said "we are behind our goal" now. It will take the cooperation of grain elevators, farmers, Agriculture Department employes, the Army, and "the great host of well intentioned farmers," he added, to attain the 100,000,000 bushel figure.

"All of us must tighten our belts," he said, "and grimly resolve to eat less wheat, less bread, cake, pastry, and other wheat products."

Meanwhile the American Red Cross in a statement said that the European food shortage has reached its most critical stage, with starvation evident in Vienna and industrialized Austria.

Anderson, in what his associates described as an indirect reference to a statement yesterday by acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson, said the

CHIANG TAKES PERSONAL HAND IN EFFORT TO END FIGHTING

CHUNGKING, April 27.—(AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek took a personal hand today in negotiations to end armed conflict in Manchuria, and a Communist spokesman said a truce might come by Monday.

The generalissimo hurried back from a flying visit to Chengtu, Szechwan province capital northwest of Chungking, and conferred at once with General Marshall, special U. S. envoy.

Chiang brushed aside his usual procedure of acting through a representative in an obvious effort to reach some sort of agreement to halt the fighting before the capital is moved to Nanking.

Marshall likewise was active throughout the day, meeting at length with Gen. Chou En-Lai, the Communist negotiator, and representatives of the Democratic League, which is trying to mediate the dispute.

Marshall's headquarters said it had no information on any progress but a Communist spokesman declared leaders of his party were "hopeful" an agreement would be reached before Marshall's departure for Nanking.

"We understand," the spokesman added, "that Marshall is scheduled to go to Nanking Monday.

"If he goes at that time without an announcement of a truce, it means there is little immediate hope of halting the conflict. But if he delays his departure longer, it is an indication that progress is being made toward settlement."

(Maj. Gen. Pao Ching-An, head of China's supreme army headquarters foreign affairs department, told the Associated Press in an interview at Nanking that the Russians quit Harbin Thursday on schedule and the Communists seized control of that North Manchurian city.

(This was the first official confirmation that Harbin had passed into Communist hands although Chungking had conceded its loss.)

BAR BACKS STATE CLAIMS TO SUBMERGED COASTAL LANDS

SHREVEPORT, La., April 27.—(AP)—The Louisiana Bar Association today adopted a resolution declaring its support of legislation intended to clear state titles to submerged coastal lands, a short while after Attorney General Tom C. Clark, who through the Justice Department is suing to establish federal title, had delivered an address to them.

Clark made no mention of the submerged lands suit or legislation during his stay here and already had left the convention when the resolution was presented and adopted without a dissenting vote.

The association, closing out its 1946 convention, passed a resolution calling for support of pending legislation to establish states' titles to the land. The House has passed a resolution to confirm the fee simple title of the states, and the Senate has a similar resolution up for consideration.

Senators John H. Overton and Allen Ellender of Louisiana are to receive copies of the association's resolution, which asks their active support of the measure before the Senate.

Gov. Jimmy Davis was asked to state Louisiana's interest in the proposed legislation, and Louisiana Attorney General Fred LeBlanc was commended for his part in its sponsorship.

The resolution was introduced by Fred G. Hudson, Jr., of Monroe, who reported that it had the indorsement of attorney generals throughout the nation, and of other bar associations. It was passed without a dissenting vote.

Hudson said that efforts were being made to prevent action on this legislation on the grounds that a suit now is pending against the state of California, seeking to establish federal ownership of submerged lands.

He declared that legislation was brought into being before the suit was filed by the Justice Department.

In his address to the association,

12 ARE INJURED IN BUS ACCIDENT

BILOXI, Miss., April 27.—(AP)—Hospital attendants reported improvement in the condition of one of two persons seriously injured in a bus accident in which 10 other persons were hurt today.

They were injured when a westbound Greyhound bus struck the side of a bridge over Harrison bayou at Indian Springs, near Ocean Springs, Miss., early today, State Highway Patrolman Marshall Lumpkin reported.

The impact of the crash ripped away a part of the vehicle's right side, Lumkin said.

Arthur Largilliere, 24, of Biloxi, whose left leg was severed above the knee, was said by hospital attendants to have shown improvement.

Also said by hospital attaches to have been hurt seriously was Clarence A. Tigler, 39, of New Orleans, who suffered fracture of the ribs and shoulder, possible fracture of the left leg and possible internal injuries.

Seven other persons injured in the crash were brought to the hospital here, while three others were taken to Keesler Field hospital.

MONROE LEADS IN ENLISTMENTS

Tops State Which Stands Ninth In Recruiting Peacetime Navy

Joe Christian, in charge of the nevy recruiting station on the third floor of the Monroe post office building, announced Saturday that the Fifth Congressional District, of which this city is the local point, is out in front of all other districts in enlisting volunteers for the peace-time navy.

"I am informed by the New Orleans office that Louisiana ranks ninth among the states in enlistments," said Recruiter Christian, "and Monroe is first in Louisiana."

There have been two re-enlistments at the local office this month—Norman L. Fallin, of Pioneer, Route 2, and George McGhee, Jr., colored, of Bastrop. The 29 enrolled here in April were new enlistments and were as follows:

From Monroe—Claude L. Ferrell, 610 Washington Street; Vernon Letterman, 308 Adams Street; Charles E. Goree, 310 South Sixth Street; Lou Gregory Barton, Forsythe Road, and Albert E. Keith.

West Monroe—Roy L. Wilson, 1300 North Second Street; John W. McClendon, 319 Stewart Avenue; George Hibbard, Jr., 300 South Fifth Street; Homer Clyde Cook, 200 Clayton Street; Wallace Ray Bromley and Sammie L. Freeman, Route 1; and Kenneth Lee Bonnette, Howard Brown, Jr., and Earl McIvin Chapman, Route 4.

Evard N. Armstrong, of Farmerville, Route 2, Sam H. Bayles, of Downsville, Cleve M. Copes, of Warden, Robert O. Dilley, Jr., of Jigger, Frank Elkins, Jr., of Bastrop, William Roy Green, of Grayson, Huey P. Hicks, of Downsville, Route 1, Floyd Leon Johnson, of Baskin, Route 1, Paul Curtis Johnston, of Downsville, Elzie C. King, of Mangham, Route 1, Willie Mack Martin and Lester B. Pinkham, of near Winnsboro, James O. McClendon, of Kilbourne, and Edward L. Nunn, of Quitman, Route 1.

ROME, April 27.—(AP)—Hot jazz is back in the open and on the up-beat in ancient Rome.

Driven underground during the years of Fascism when jazz was barred from the Italian radio and denounced by Benito Mussolini as "barbaric" and "decadent"; jive devotees here no longer face hostility, but only incomprehension.

Seven Rome students, fervid advocates of "the pure jazz," are in the forefront of the attack on Italian "traditionalism" in music.

They have established themselves as the GI's favorite Italian band. Organized as a sextet with a leader-manager and an instrumental set-up modeled on Benny Goodman's group, the combo swings out on the "standards" beloved of the solid men everywhere, and bounces out of its rhythms in a style to suit the most critical Americans.

It is the only Italian orchestra featured regularly over the armed forces radio service's Rome expeditionary station, and broadcasts a half hour thrice weekly. Three times a week the group plays for dances at the American Red Cross Club and it is the usual attraction at army rest center dances.

Five of the seven regulars are students at Rome University. The pianist, black-bearded Umberto Cesari, 24, is in his fourth year in natural sciences; Clarinetist Ricardo Rauchi, 25, has two years' study in graduate accounting behind him; Tomel Omero, 22, drummer, is in third year engineering; while two brothers of Bandleader Aldo Letteri, Giorgio, 24, and Memmo, 20, the string bass and electric guitar men, study economics and engineering.

Leader Letteri, who recently came from behind the bull fiddle to front the band, was graduated from the university, in engeneering, three years ago, while 19-year-old Franco Chiari, vibraphonist, will enter the university when he finishes high school this year.

Only Chiari and Rauchi read music The rest use quick ears and good memory to pick up melodies and harmonies from the radio and records, to work out imaginative improvisations on such jam favorites as "Basin Street Blues," "I've Found A New Baby," "Honeysuckle Rose" and other old-timers.

Arrangements are strickly off the cuff—first chorus with everybody in it, solos for each instrument and a high-riding finale.

Idols of the bandsmen are without exception Americans, and their talk is a curious pot-pourri of technical Italian musical terms and the jive talk of America—"Legato" and "Rubato" and "Glissando" mixed with "solid" and "drive" and "gutbucket."

To some extent, Leader Letteri says, they think of themselves as missionaries.

"We're out to teach Italians to like good jazz," he explains, "instead of the insipid ballads which Italian popular composers, too much influenced by the classics, feed them."

Andorra, tiny principality on the French-Spanish Pyrenees border, first was given its independence by Charlemagne as a reward for help in fighting the Moors.

FIRING FIRST GUN FOR GI'S

Veterans' Council In Battle To Place Amvets In Jobs

The first gun is being fired by the Ouachita Parish Veterans Council in the battle it will wage during May to place more than 2,000 unemployed World War II veterans of the parish in jobs.

It was manned by A. E. Montgomery, president of the Police Jury, and Mayors H. H. Benoit, of Monroe, and D. C. Golson, of West Monroe; and the ammunition they chose for the first shot was a joint proclamation calling attention of employers to the G. I. Bill of Rights apprenticeship and on-the-job training program as a means of increasing pay of veterans already working and of providing jobs for those seeking employment.

The proclamation, observing that "no more fitting memorial could be established in memory of members of the armed forces who made the supreme sacrifice during World War II than full employment of their comrades who servived," designated May Veterans Employment Month.

Mayor Benoit was scheduled to read the proclamation with appropriate remarks at 6:30 o'clock tonight over radio station KMLB; Mayor Golson was slated to do likewise ten minutes later over KNOE.

Copies of the proclamation were mailed to virtually every minister in Ouachita parish with a request from the veterans council that it be read from their pulpits today. Copies were also dispatched to civic organizations to be read to their memberships.

The veterans council hoped to accomplish three things during Veterans Employment Month:

Raise the living standard of veterans already employed by increasing their pay to the extent of the subsistence allowance provided under the G. I. Bill of Rights for apprenticeship and on-the-job trainees ($65 a month for veterans without dependents and $90 a month for veterans with dependents).

Spread employment by enabling employers to hire unskilled and inexperienced veterans at a living wage (beginner's pay plus subsistence allowance).

Prevail on employers to perform a civic service by enabling veterans to increase their value to themselves and their communities through the training made available to them.

Many veterans entitled to the subsistence allowance are not receiving it because their employers have not had their establishments certified as places for training. Numerous firms have not taken advantage of the opportunity of giving work to unskilled and inexperienced veterans because their managements are unaware that their establishments are eligible for certification.

The veterans council plans to stimulate the former type of employers and educate the latter during the month of May.

Every means available to publicize the apprenticeship and on-the-job training program, its mutual advantages to employers and veterans, its certification procedure and other details, will be utilized by the veterans council during May.

The proclamation issued by Mr. Montgomery and Mayors Benoit and Golson follows:

"WHEREAS, the economic health of the United States is as important to world peace as understanding and truth among freedom-loving nations, and

"WHEREAS, an unhealthy condition ow exists throughout this country the form of thousands of unemoyed veterans, particularly those cking skills and business experience, d

"WHEREAS, the federal government evised in advance, through a sysm of educational subsistence allownces, a program for training of vetrans lacking skills and experience, nd

"WHEREAS, no more fitting meorial could be established in memry of members of the armed forces who made the supreme sacrifice durng World War II than full employment of their comrades who survived, nd

"WHEREAS, establishment of such memorial is lagging in Ouachita parish, and

"WHEREAS, May is the month of Memorial Day, when the military dead of the nation are justly remembered in words and with flowers,

"NOW, THEREFORE, we, A. E. Montgomery, president of the Ouachita Parish Police Jury, H. H. Benoit, mayor of Monroe, and D. C. Golson, mayor of West Monroe, by the powers vested in us, do hereby proclaim the month of May Veterans Employment Month in order, at an especially appropriate time, to focus attention of the public, particularly employers, on full utilization of apprenticeship and on-the-job subsistence allowances as a means of raising the living standard of veterans already employed, of providing jobs for those without work and of increasing the value of these men and women to their communities, as well as to themselves, through the training they are enabled to receive."

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(AP)—Two of the most powerful railroad unions—the Brotherhoods of Trainmen and Locomotive engineers—have announced they will strike May 18.

This is the result of a dispute that has been going on since last summer. The unions wanted higher pay and changes in their working conditions. The railroads wanted changes in their contracts with the unions.

There, may, or may not, be a strike which would tie the country in knots.

At the moment there is no excitement here. The president—it's entirely up to him now—could take steps to block this strike.

He could call both sides to the White House and ask them to settle the fight—or make some suggestions to pacify both sides as a means of settlement—and he'd have public opinion as pressure behind him.

Because of this pressure—the president would be talking in terms of the nation's welfare which would suffer through a strike—both sides would think twice before turning him down.

Or, he could seize the railroads to prevent a strike and hold them until some settlement was reached. In this case he'd have to depend upon the union members to continue to run the trains until a settlement was made.

The unions, of course, could ignore the president's efforts, strike, and stay off the trains. But that's still in the future.

There has been no major railroad strike since 1926 when Congress passed the railway labor act. That act—by setting up machinery for wringing the disputes pretty dry—was intended to make chances of a strike small.

The present dispute has gone through all the machinery provided by the act and, with the machinery used up, is now in the president's hands.

Following is the ABC of the dispute. Just remember that all the steps taken so far have been in accordance with the act and its machinery:

The dispute started last summer. Unions and railroads argued until December. They got nowhere. The National mediation board was called in. This is a permanent board—a three-man board—appointed by the president.

It's job is to try to get the opposing sides to reach a settlement. The board failed. The unions voted to strike. The board decided a strike would tie up interstate commerce and notified the president.

The president then appointed a fact-finding board to examine the case and make a report to him. Remember this about the fact-finding board:

1. Neither unions nor railroads have to abide by any recommendations which the fact-finders make to the president.

2. But for the 30 days in which the board has to report to the president there is to be no strike.

3. And there is to be no strike for 30 days after the board reports. (There's nothing in the law preventing a strike within those 60 days but, by a sort of gentlemen's agreement, the strikes don't occur.)

The board reported to the president April 18. The unions didn't like the board's recommendations and announced that on May 18—30 days after the board's report—they'd strike.

The unions wanted:

1. A wage increase of 25 per cent, or at least $2.50 a day.

2. At least 44 changes in working arrangements.

The railroads laid down 29 demands for changes they wanted in contracts with the unions.

The board said the union workers should get only an 18 per cent increase—or 16 cents an hour—instead of a 25 per cent increase. This was why, the board said:

Between January, 1941, and now, while living costs had risen 33 per cent, the railroad workers' wages have risen only 15 per cent. So, to get them up to a 33 per cent total wage increase to match the 33 per cent living cost rise, they should get another 18 per cent wage raise but no more.

As for the 44 other union demands and the 29 railroad demands, the board didn't try to work them out, saying "the proposals of each side are extreme."

The board said it couldn't examine all those demands in 30 days.

W. M. SHEPPARD GUEST SPEAKER

Versatile Jaycee Executive Will Address Local Group

W. M. (Bill) Sheppard, past president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker at the Junior Chamber of Commerce charter-presentation banquet at Hotel Virginia, Wednesday, May 1, at 8 p.m.

Sheppard organized the Arkansas state Jaycee group, served as its president; was vice-president of the national group in 1940 and was elevated to the presidency in 1942. During his term he organized the Junior Chamber in Central America. The same year he was voted one of ten outstanding young men in America the same year.

Native of Arkansas, he attended Little Rock High School and later received his master's degree in agriculture at Perdue University. He began his business career as personal secretary to the president of the Arkansas Power and Light Company. He organized and headed the safety department of this utility company and later the governor of Arkansas selected him to be chairman of the newly-created Arkansas Safety Council. At the present time, Sheppard is director of industrial development of the Arkansas Power and Light Company.

He has held innumerable positions with the United States Junior Chamber. He was on the awards committee in 1939 and was awards counselor of the National Junior Chamber at Washington. He organized the Louisiana Jaycees in 1940, was presiding officer of the public utilities seminar at the Minneapolis convention. Sheppard has been a director of the United States Jaycees since 1939 and was a member of the public affairs advisory committee and awards advisory committee in 1941-1942.

While Bill was president, he traveled 65,000 miles, spoke to 328 organizations and to over 20,000 people. During his term he spent but 45 days in Arkansas.

Other posts held by this progressive young man include: State chairman of committee for economic development; state chairman USO council; members of board of directors of the Tri-State Livestock Association; Arkansas State Safety Council; board of examiners of Boy Scouts of Arkansas; committee man on economic rehabilitation of the International Chamber of Commerce; member board of directors of the American Cancer Society.

With this wealth of experience as background, Bill will bring to the Jaycees and other guests a most informative and inspiring address.

GUEST SPEAKER

W. M. (BILL) SHEPPARD

PRESBYTERIANS TO HEAR DR. MEANS

Dr. E. K. Means, greatly revered by the older generation in Monroe with whom he resided and labored for many years when pastor of the First Methodist Church, now again a resident of Monroe, will occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The public is cordially invited to hear Dr. Means.

WAR DEAD WILL BE RECOGNIZED

'Poppy Day' Set On May 4 By Legion's Auxiliary Here

Poppy day will be observed in Monroe and throughout the United States on Saturday, May 4, Mrs. H. F. Madison, Jr., president of L. B. Faulk unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, has announced.

Memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the dead of both world wars will be distributed on the streets throughout the day by volunteer workers from the auxiliary and cooperating organizations. Contributions received in exchange for the flowers will be used in relief and rehabilitation work for disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead.

Extensive preparations for Poppy day are being made by the legion auxiliary unit under the direction of Mrs. Madison, Poppy chairman. The volunteer workers are being organized into teams and assigned to locations in the downtown area.

The poppies have been ordered from Veterans Hospital, Alexandria, where they are being made by disabled veterans of both wars, working under the direction of the Louisiana Department of the American Legion Auxiliary. They are crepe paper replicas of the European wild poppy which bloomed on the battlefields of France and Belgium in both wars and which has become a world-wide symbol of remembrance of America's battle dead.

Poppies will be more generally worn this year than ever before.

"With peace restored and the men home, everyone will want to pay tribute to those who can never come back to us by wearing a poppy in their honor on Poppy day."

The Luxembourg Palace was the last Nazi holdout in Paris.

'REDSKINS' GETS WELL UNDER WAY

Northeast Junior College Variety Show Scheduled For May 10

"Redskins," Northeast Junior College student variety show, with its music, skits and dancing, is getting well under way, declare directors of the revue. The performance which will be presented under the supervision of Miss Sarah Helen Word, speech instructor, is scheduled May 10 in Brown Hall auditorium.

Increased interest in this year's production is due largely to the number of veterans who are participating, according to the directors. The way these veterans work is proof of their maxim that if a job is worth doing it is worth doing well.

Robert "Bob" Powell, freshman agriculture major from West Monroe, is cast in the role of the master of ceremonies of the night club scene. This skit consists of songs, dances, and personality sketches. The radio program used in this skit was written by Bob and calls for many impersonations by him. Senator Claghon and Errol Winn are among the people that Bob mimics.

Roy E. Holloway, Jr., freshman engineering major from Monroe, plays the laugh-making part of Fred Alline. What concerns Roy most in the night club skit is how to keep Bob from cutting all his lines.

Harold Thompson, Bastrop sophomore, and Rollins B. Rosengwiez, Tallulah freshman, are cast in the parts of two soldiers, who good naturedly razz each other and dream about home and beautiful girls.

Julius "Sonny" Johnson, Monroe sophomore, will play the role of a negro "relief man."

Ralph Reed, West Monroe freshman and vice-president of the newly organized Veterans' Club, is making the girls swoon as he plays the role of Frank Sinatra.

Roy "Tut" Whittington, director of the "Redskins" orchestra, says he has found good material in two more veterans, Donald Crane, Delhi drummer, and Gene Gregg, Monroe trumpeter.

Growing Worse Here, Too

Chester A. Davis, chairman of the President's Famine Emergency Committee, was not thinking of the United States when he said that the world food situation was growing progressively worse, but he would not have been overstating the facts if he had included this country in his dark picture.

The truth is—and any housewife will testify to it—that many of the necessities of life are either disappearing from store shelves or are in such short supply that only the early shoppers can obtain them. Some of them are harder to buy today than during the war.

If any economist or administration stalwart, from Chester Bowles down, has an explanation for this condition, e ought to lose no time in presenting it. If there is any re for it that should be speedily adopted. Price control s had an extended trial and has been found dismally nting. All that it seems to have succeeded in doing is to ich the black marketeers and to keep meat, butter and ral other foods from the nation's tables.

All over the land the story is the same. Cattle are belaughtered, but not by the authorized operators. Meat ng processed, but not by the legitimate packing houses. nspection system has broken down to such an extent obody can be sure whether the little beef and pork e available are fit for human consumption.

hy must this be so in the world's richest country? swer is that it need not be so if the OPA will relax rols to give the ancient law of supply and demand rtunity to function. The government is playing hands of the black market operators and letting majority of the people suffer.

ANOTHER CLOTHING PLAN

Con government's answer to the continuing acute of low-cost clothing of every kind has been to re- stiff, wartime controls over the textile industry. to give it its due, has not ignored the possibility ice policies may be the real reason why clothing e, for a 5 per cent increase in price ceilings for s has been allowed.

Swe ashington is putting its chief reliance in an order cotton spindles for essential production and a As Adv ulation designed to stem the diversion of yarn way from low-cost clothes.

ably does not make much difference to the man what the government does at the moment so rings results. He has been waiting hopefully for a chance to buy shirts, socks, underclothes Pothes. Although the government has tried one ter another, stocks of clothing in the stores s low as ever. Clothes at a price he can afford average man wants and he will welcome almost nat gets them for him.

ying so heavily on the mechanism of governls to channel production this late in the day ny persons more than a little. These controls able and necessary during the war.

is plenty of productive capacity in the textile et the demand. The shortage has been aggrarice controls which have encouraged manufacurn out expensive items with larger profit maroration of other wartime controls will delay still free competition which alone promises full proclothing at reasonable prices.

JUST AN INCIDENT

an seizures of machinery and other industrial t in Germany and Manchuria have been in the but other seizures have occurred which strike me than those. They are Russian appropriations rties of American business in eastern Europe.

nited States office equipment concern reports that s plants in that part of Europe now under Russian have been seized. That company has a third plant ussian sphere, but is unable to get any information t. Russia will not admit the company's representathe area.

ternational Business Machines, American Radiator her companies report they are in a similar position ard to their plants. Corn Products Refining reports s potato starch plants in eastern Germany and Poland been dismantled by the Reds and its plant in Yugoa is being operated by the Russian-supported Tito govnent. These companies have written off their plants, ndoning hope of ever recovering them.

Nations have frequently gone to war over similar ocrrences. Now the loss of foreign property by American izens is merely an incident in a changing world.

A FAIR TRIAL FOR THE EX-HERO

A big World War II name reappeared briefly in the news the other day. Marshal Tito's year-long search for Gen. Draja Mikhailovitch ended at last in a mountain cave, where the general was found with 11 followers.

The devotion of the 11, apparently, was just about all that remained to Mikhailovitch of the world-wide glory which was his in the early, desperate years of the war, when he commanded thousands of Chetnik guerrillas in their rapier raids on German occupational forces in Yugoslavia.

The one-time international hero fell into disrepute at almost the very time when Yugoslavia's worst agony was over—when the war turned against Germany. Then it was that Marshal Tito, through his Russian sponsor, made it allegedly clear that Mikhailovitch was a reactionary despot, rather than a patriotic fighter for freedom.

There evidently is some justification for the charge. At least, Winston Churchill seemed to think so when, in May, 1944, he repudiated the general, announcing that he had collaborated with the Germans against Tito's armies.

Jimmie Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, April 27.—Van Johnson is out of the hospital and at the Keenan Wynns' to recoup from his operation. . . . Peggy Cummins and Bob (Life photographer) Landry are fanning the embers of their dying romantic flame. . . . Maurice Chevalier has blue-penciled plans for a p. a. tour of the U. S.; he will do South America instead—probably because many American fans are still unconvinced by his refutation of collaborationist activities during the war. . . . Judy Garland's health is much improved since she shed two infected wisdom teeth.

Grace Moore, who started her career as a choir singer in a Protestant church, is receiving instructions from Msgr. Fulton Sheehan, preparatory to adopting the Catholic faith. . . . Doctors have ordered Myrna Loy to quit her too-strict reducing diet. . . . Divorcing: Bernadine Hayes and William (M-G-M actor) Leister. . . . Monogram's "Joe Palooka, Champ" (Leon Errol-Joe Kirkwood-Elyse Knox). A favorite comic strip hits the screen with lots of socks-appeal. . . . Best Performance: Maureen O'Hara in "Do You Love Me?" Answer: You will!

In yesterday's publicity barrage was an item from RKO, advising that George Raft, forced to do several fight scenes in "Nocturne," has hired a boxing instructor to renovate his ring technique. This just goes to show how careless a big-money star eventually becomes about his expenditures. Raft could get faster results at less expense by accepting a few invitations to Hollywood parties.

Arthur Kennedy, William Holden, George Montgomery and Wayne Morris were grousing in concert the other day about the labor shortage and the resultant run-down condition of their homes. Suddenly Kennedy had an idea. "What kind of manual skills do you fellows have?" he demanded. Morris confessed that he's a pretty fair plumber; Montgomery admitted a first hand knowledge of paper hanging and plaster work; Holden bragged about a job he once had as a carpenter's helper. "Fine," said Kennedy. "I know something about interior decoration. Let's quit complaining and go to work." Then and there they organized a labor pool, pledging themselves to work in rotation on one another's homes until the needed improvements are made. More "communism" of that kind, and less of the soap box variety, and Hollywood would be a better town.

There has been so much publicity about long lines of would-be patrons waiting to buy tickets for Howard Hughes' sexy spectacle, "The Outlaw," that it's only fair to report the sensational popularity of two other recent attractions, if only to put Filmville in a proper light. There was a line of music lovers, three blocks long, waiting to buy ducats for the opening concert of the Philharmonic season, and the Huge Hollywood Bowl was much too small to provide seats for the multitude that attended Easter sunrise services.

According to trade papers, M-G-M's decision to film "Robinson Crusoe," now set for Spencer Tracy, without injecting any love interest, is risky "because movies without strong romantic themes seldom have been box-office winners in the past." Bosh! One doesn't need to look beyond Tracy's own record to refute that fear. Two of his greatest hits were "Boys Town" and "Captains Courageous," both devoid of romance.

New York Day By Day

By CHARLES B. DRISCOLL
Title Reg. U. S. Patent Office

NEW YORK—Diary: Strolling in lower Manhattan, I spend some time looking over the dismal old Tombs prison, vacant for years. Our indomitable park man, Robert Moses, wants to tear the old stone pile down and make a park of the block on which it stands. Excellent idea. Long ago I suggested the same procedure, with two other blocks tossed in. The old Criminal Courts and the old District Attorney building, both also vacant since erection of the skyscraper Criminal Courts, across the street, should be wrecked, and the ground used for a park, three blocks long.

Two new drives, chiefly for publicity purposes, have been under way in New York lately.

One is a drive against littering the streets. Some thousands of dollars in fines have been collected, and presently the matter will be forgotten, and those who are able to vote for the existing administration will be able to toss the contents of the wastebasket into the street, as usual.

The oher drive is against gamblers and racetrack touts, who are having a war among themselves, murdering one another over the take.

Any mayor or district attorney, in New York or anywhere else, knows all about the gambling and horse parlors, where they are situated, and who runs them. If they didn't know, they'd be the most innocent citizens in town.

La Guardia made a lot of publicity capital out of his talks on the air about tin-horn gamblers. But he permitted them to live and prosper in the town. Now it has got to the big murdering game, and the cops have stepped in.

Walking through West 50th street today, I passed an old building that had an areaway, about four feet wide, next to the sidewalk.

A stout iron fence closed off the areaway, and a single sign said, "No Dumping."

Apparently, everybody had been dumping everything he couldn't use into that narrow space for years. It was piled through its half-block length with old paper, garbage, broken beams, pieces of automobiles, and I also saw a baby's high chair and a kite.

Mrs. J. D. Blevins, of Beaumont, Tex., knows how to make sweet potato bread, which sounds exciting. . . . Sonja V. Halzhauer, of Brockton, Mass., likes best the news about the family and dogs, in this column. . . . Family and dogs are well, as of this date. . . . A pecan pie, as made by Mrs. V. S. Lowe, Jacksonville, Fla., is just like a butterscotch pie, with a cup of ground pecans added. . . . The Dog Protective Society in one of my favorite towns, Muncie, Ind., is doing a fine work in stopping dog-stealing. . . . Mary Williams, of Perry, Fla., remarks how many New Yorkers apparently cannot read even large signs. At Pennsylvania Station she has observed crowds entering through exits which are plainly labeled: "Do Not Enter."

If anybody in the world can be more cruel than certain Americans, I do not want to hear about them. "Time" recently printed parts of a letter of a soldier who had been tortured (by American soldiers) in a prison, and witnessed tortures of others. I know a sailor who witnessed much the same routine in a horror shop in Chicago.

"The Gestapo hasn't a thing on our army," says the "Time" writer. My informant agrees.

Irresponsible power to inflict punishment makes a beast of almost any man. I've seen it working in police stations in many cities. Too bad, but also true. Ask any police reporter.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture: Mark 3:14-17; Luke 9:49-56, I John 4:7-8

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

As intense as Peter, but driven by a steady, persistent ambition which kept them free from Peter's weakness and lapses, were James and John, whom Jesus called the "Sons of Thunder."

In character and purpose, and in their intense desire to have the places of power and preferment in the earthly kingdom which they supposed Jesus was going to establish when they responded to His call, these three were outstanding among the 12.

Jesus recognized their forceful and outstanding qualities. He accorded them some privileges not granted the others; not by way of conferring favoritism, but because He knew that upon them, even more than upon the others, the responsibilities, dangers and burdens of leadership would fall when His own mission had been fulfilled.

But He had His troubles with them. Though He took the three up with Him into the mountain of Transfiguration, where they shared that unforgettable experience. He did it as a part of the process of purging their souls of earthly passions and ambitions, and building within them a faith and vision that would keep them strong and true in the years ahead.

With the "Sons of Thunder" Jesus had particular difficulties. They were also the sons of Zebedee, and "the mother of Zebedee's children" had fired these sons with an intense ambition. She made trouble when she came to Jesus asking that one of her sons should sit on His right hand, and the other on His left hand, when He came into His kingdom.

And the marvel is that men so full of ambition, and with such ideas of worldly power and success, should have become such loyal, unselfish, and devoted disciples when they discovered that the kingdom Jesus had come to establish was spiritual.

That they remained with Him reveals how good and strong they were in spite of their faults of fiery temper and inordinate ambition. The other ten disciples were indignant when they heard of the mother's request. The notable thing in the story is that when Jesus assured them that the places they asked for were not His to give, and warned them of the sufferings that they would have to bear, they said, "We are able."

And they were able. What men they became under the loving guidance and discipline of Jesus!

We can measure the progress in regeneration, as we contrast the "Sons of Thunder," wanting Jesus to call down fire from heaven to consume villagers who had used Him inhospitably, with the gentle John, the same "Son of Thunder," saying, "We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren," and "Little children, love one another."

BY HENRY McLEMORE

ATLANTA, Ga.—I don't know about you, but when I am handed my newspaper and burnt toast in the morning, the first thing I look at are the pages carrying the paid political advertisements.

Let others worry about B. O. Plenty and Iran, about housing conditions and the latest golden wedding in Hollywood. Those things do not interest me in an election year.

My heart leaps up when I read political advertisements. It would be a very dull fellow, indeed, who didn't get a lift from these advertisements and the knowledge that the United States is soon to be governed by such fine, sterling, upstanding and progressive men.

I subscribe to papers from nine or ten states and, judging from the advertisements, there isn't an ordinary man running for office in any of those states. Every single candidate is good looking. There isn't a weak chin, or a bloodshot eye, or a receding forehead seeking office. Every one of them is well dressed. There is no suit or shirt shortage among the candidates.

Everyone of them stands for the things you and I hold dear. With a fearlessness that makes us voters feel humble, these candidates come right out in the open and take a stand on some of the most controversial subjects in the world. Looking at a Kentucky newspaper I find a Progressive-Liberal seeker after the county solicitor's office, who trumpets a challenge for purer water for his home town. Without one moment's hesitation, he flatly declares that he takes a firm stand against poisoned wells in his community.

In my own locality we have a man running for the Senate, who, despite the votes it may cost him, is against another war. Two of the planks in his platform flatly declare that war is bloody, expensive, and that he, once placed in the Senate, will do his level best to save his constituents from World War III.

Another thing I like about the candidates is that every one of them has seen military service of some kind. Frankly, a man who hasn't served as a soldier in some war is not going to be elected. He may have an I. Q. of 199, have international knowledge at his finger tips, and have the nation's interest at heart, but unless he can wave an old Sam Brown belt over his head and do right dress on the platform, he's a dead pigeon.

Proof of this is to be found in the political advertisements. Candidates are digging up some of the most remote war records you ever heard of. In Jacksonville, Fla., a man is making capital of the fact that he was an air raid warden, and that his wife was the first member of the Motor Corps to tear down her own car and not be able to reassemble it.

My favorite candidate, however, lives in Dallas, Texas. He is appealing to ex-service men on the strength of having given blood to World War II through a blood bank. He was also a watcher, and takes a great deal of the credit for the fact that no bombs were dropped on Dallas. While campaigning he wears an overseas cap which he stole from the blood bank when they put it over his eyes to keep him from fainting.

Indiana has more than its share of men who have come out for the rights of the people. There's a congressman in Indiana who, against the advice of the machine, advocates houses for everyone. In New York City a candidate is gaining popularity by his amazing stand against bank robbers. He does not believe that bank robbery is good for this country.

So, my friends have asked me to run for office and have prepared the following advertisement in case I decide to run:

"Vote for Henry McLemore. Young, capable, fearless, clean cut, and a man you'll be proud of. In conversation he has declared himself against the following evils: 1. Moths, 2. Mosquitos, 3. Certain types of poison snakes, 4. Bills—at the end of the month, 5. Cakes containing saws given to long-time prisoners.

He is for: 1. Cakes not containing saws for long-time prisoners, 2. The dredging of the Potomac River from a point marked A to a point marked A-plus, 3. A cafeteria in the Washington monument with a reasonably priced blue plate lunch, 4. More money for columnists whose initials are H. M., 5. The elimination of national committeemen, patronage, nepotism and neuralgia."

This column was written and paid for by a friend.

News BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Mr. Byrnes said when he departed for Paris, he was "standing in the need of prayer," to quote a Negro spiritual. He did not go otherwise either disarmed or somber as the suggestion may have appeared, according to my observers. He offered the suggestion rather pleasantly.

A journalist present offered him the suggestion that he need no greater prayer than: "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want."

The problem left to the meeting by the failures of the technical conferees to work out the final peace treaties, has caused concern among the high diplomats. The suggestion that we might be compelled even to make separate treaties came from a very high quarter. However, we were compelled to do this by failures of negotiations after the last war. Unquestionably the attitude taken by Russia at the conference and the degree in which it is pressed, will be the deciding factor.

The talk in diplomatic circles has suggested that the British may not care to go that far. On the other hand, some indications from Russian quarters have suggested that if she is allowed fortifications on the Dardanelles, continued occupation of Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary, she may not press occupation of the Dodecanese islands and Trieste. Of course, it will be difficult to get Turkey to agree to foreign fortifications on her soil and a compromise on that basis may prove to be difficult.

The Italian treaty also is a serious stumbling block, and there are many others. As a matter of fact, about all that seems to have been agreed upon is that there should be peace treaties and the final principles on which they should be made. Whenever technical questions arise in dealing with the Russians, trouble always seems to develop.

As a matter of fact, Byrnes did not know when he left whether Molotov, the foreign minister and right hand man of Stalin, would go to the conference or Vishinski. While Vishinski is very highly regarded in diplomatic quarters, he does not qualify in rank with either the British foreign minister or the American secretary of state. Some of Byrnes' friends believe that if Molotov came, it would augur well for the success of the meeting, but if Vishinski was sent, it would indicate that the negotiations would run into the same difficulties which they have had before.

My guess is that the firmness of Mr. Byrnes' position will win at the meeting as it has at the UNO Security Council sessions on Iran. When that issue was brought into the council the last time by Russia, applicants of appeasement were saying, at least privately, Russia had more notes than we had, or the issue would be very close, the most authentic predicting a vote of only six to five in our favor. After frank discussion, the vote wound up eight to three against the Soviet move to get the council to drop the issue.

The river Swanee became musically famous simply because it fitted a composer's rhythm. Stephen Foster picked the name from an atlas.

INCREASINGLY COLD WEATHER MAY COME

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(AP)—The world may be started on a half century of progressively colder weather, the weather bureau reported today.

A reversal of the 50-year, world-wide trend toward steadily warmer weather began for the United States, at least, about five years ago, the bureau said.

"This does not mean that it will freeze this summer or that next year's snow storms will be appreciably worse than last," it added. "It could happen that this summer would be the hottest ever and next winter unusually mild.

"But if the cycle continues downward for the next half century as it has continued upward in the past, it may mean a return of the cold winters that existed when grandpa was a boy."

Special charts prepared recently "show unmistakably that, until the last few years at least, the temperature throughout the world has become steadily warmer," despite many year-to-year variations, the bureau declared.

The charts were prepared by J. B. Kincer, bringing up to date a study he made for the bureau which established in 1933 the existence of a world-wide trend toward warmer weather which had been in progress for years.

He reported that the U. S. has definitely experienced "a downward dip of the temperature curve for the past few years and it may be that this trend is also worldwide," although "adequate statistics are not available" for other countries because of the war.

"Whether this downtrend is merely a short-term variation or is in fact a reversal of the upward cycle cannot be established until more evidence is in, perhaps not for another five or ten years," he added.

SAYS TEEN-AGERS BETTER LEADERS

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—(AP)—Teen-agers can provide guidance for their contemporaries better than adults can, Hamilton Holt, president of Kiwanis International, believes.

Holt, who is from Macon, Ga., is here for a convention of Key Club International, junior affiliate of the Kiwanis. He said the high school students making up the club are capable of setting their own standards, working out their own problems, and, he added, "the results are amazing."

COMMISSIONERS OF RAILROADS TO MEET

ATLANTA, April 27.—(AP)—Railroad an l public service commissioners from ten Southeastern states will meet here Wednesday to protest the proposed 25 per cent increase in freight rates.

Chairman Walter R. McDonald, of the Georgia commission, announced the meeting. He estimated the increase would cost shippers of the nation more than a billion dollars.

McDonald said the request of the railroads that the increase be put in effect by the Interstate Commerce Commission without a hearing was unprecedented.

The commissions of the ten states have filed a protest asserting that present railroad earnings disprove any immediate emergency which would justify the increase.

McDonald said he was certain the South would oppose approval of the rate increase since the ICC only recently decided in the class rate case that the higher level of rates in the South was discriminatory and should be reduced.

The protest has been filed by the commissions of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

CATTLE PROMISED FOR HUNGRY PEOPLE

JACKSON, Miss., April 27.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas L. Bailey, who yesterday asked Mississippians to contribute a shipload of livestock for the starving peoples abroad today had a promise of the first 100 head.

It came from the Pearl River County cattle raisers who promised 100 head of two-year-old heifers, milch cows and beef cattle.

"The spirit of the people of Pearl River County is the spirit of the people of Mississippi," the governor said at a news conference this afternoon.

"We will raise the shipload and it will depart from a Mississippi port as a free good will offering of Mississippians.

"Our people can always be depended upon to do the right thing at the right time," the governor said.

He added he will announce shortly the names of 15 persons the conference on rural life last night asked him to appoint to collect the gift shipload of livestock and send it to war devastated countries.

OLD TIME SONGS WILL BE HEARD

'Grand Ole Opry' Is To Be Featured Here Wednesday Night

Old time music and songs that have made Nashville's "Grand Ole Opry" famous, flavored with the modern western swing types of music, will be heard at the Central Grammar School Auditorium in Monroe, when Paul Howard will bring his Arkansas Cotton Pickers here for a show one night only, Wednesday night. There will be two performances, 7:00 and 9:00 o'clock p.m.

Paul Howard and his Arkansas Cotton Pickers are one of WSM's singing finds, having been on the Grand Ole Opry since April of 1942. He is the composer of many folk-type songs and ballads, including the recent success, "With Tears in My Eyes," "What a Difference Just a Year Can Make," "When You Tore Up My Letter" and many others.

Featured with the Cotton Pickers is the "North Carolina Woodcutter," Clyde Moody, one of the Orpy's brightest stars. Clyde has a singing quality that has distinguished him as one of the greatest ballad singers to ever appear behind the footlights of the old orpy house.

In addition to Paul and Clyde, there are Little Judy Dean, diminutive feminine singer; bass and piano player, Wayne Watson, portraying "Elmer Sparks"; Ralph Lamp and "Arkansas" Clem Walters, fiddler; and Jimmy Crabtree, electric steel guitar player, appearing in the Grand Ole Opry company.

Paul Howard is now featured on the "Noontime Neighbors" farm broadcast daily, the Minnie Pearl "Saturday Social" on Saturdays and the Grand Ole Opry, all broadcast over WSM.

FIGHT AGAINST CANCER ACTIVE

Unless Disease Halted, 17 Million People Will Be Victims

Some 17 million Americans living today are destined to die of cancer unless we do something about it. Last year we started to do something about it, and responding to an appeal of the Cancer Society, we subscribed four million dollars to launch an all out attack on the disease.

Of this sum nearly one million has been made available for organizing research work. The national research council will serve as research adviser to the American Cancer Society, thus the campaign will be supervised by the same body to which the government turned for advice on wartime research.

More than two and one-half million dollars have helped existing cancer clinics and hospitals with their immediate job. The immediate job, as distinct from the long range effort to discover cause and cure, is far from hopeless. For on a basis of what we now know, we find many cancer cases, if the condition is detected and treated in time, that aid is possible. Early detection means periodic examination by qualified cancer physicians and properly equipped clinics and hospitals. We have such facilities but they are too few, too distant, too poorly equipped to serve the 17 million Americans marked for cancer deaths. At some clinics appointments must be made six or eight months in advance.

The funds you contributed last year have financed special cancer training for parish medical examiners, surveys of state facilities for cancer treatment, refresher courses to qualify general practictioners to detect cancer early, radium, new X-Ray machines, and other needed equipment for existing cancer clinics and hospitals.

But all this is but a beginning—we've set out to conquer cancer. Let's finish the job. At this time the Cancer Society is launching its drive for 12 million dollars to spend for cancer research, extended public education, provide more and better hospitals and clinics and train more specialists. There is high purpose in this campaign, the conquest of cancer must be undertaken. Your contribution to the American Cancer Society to your own local cancer committee, will help. R. Q. Cale, 220 South Grand street, is parish treasurer.

REMOVES PEACE BOND

H. O. Hendrix, who was early in the week placed under a peace bond, announced Saturday that this has been removed, all charges having been withdrawn.

STATE POLICE HERE ARREST 12 IN WEEK

Troop F of the Monroe station of the Louisiana state police yesterday reported making 12 arrests during the past week.

The names and addresses of the accused and the offenses charged were as follows:

L. C. Crowell of Vernon, held on a charge of theft for the New Mexico state police; Mrs. Jerry Hamilton, 4201 South Grand street, Monroe, passing unloading school bus; I. E. Bass, Fairbanks, reckless driving and causing injury and property damage; Eugene Ellis, Rayville route 2, disturbing peace; Augusta F. Winkler, West Monroe route 1, passing school bus; McKinley Johnson, Oak Ridge, operating motor vehicle while under influence of liquor, causing property damage and fleeing scene of accident, and J. F. Wright, Jr., S. E. Williamson and C. A. Frost, Jr., Little Rock, runaways. The Little Rock boys were released to their parents. The other cases have not been disposed of.

Court trials including those of three persons arrested last week were:

A. G. Morrison, West Monroe, fined $37.50 and costs for passing unloading school bus; Edwin C. Hammond, Rayville, fined $100 and $12.50 costs for operating motor vehicle while under influence of liquor; Farrar Carter, West Monroe, fined $20 and costs for passing loading school bus; Edward C. Stivers, Los Angeles, fined $25 and costs for passing loading school bus; D. M. Greer, Jonesboro, fined $50 and sentenced to 15 days in jail for operating vehicle while under the influence of liquor, and Donaldson Emmett, Tallulah, sentenced to 5 years for robbery.

MORGANZA SPILL PLANS REPORTED

Expected To Be Made Public Shortly From Vicksburg Office

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—(AP)—Engineering plans for the Morganza floodway in Louisiana, which would divert 600,000 cubic feet of water from the Mississippi river in time of major flood, have been reported on by the U. S. engineers, Maj. Gen. E. W. Crawford, president of the Mississippi river commission, said here today.

The plan is expected to be made public shortly from the district engineers office in Vicksburg.

The Morganza floodway, which would flow down the Atchafalaya basin to the gulf, was discussed in the final hearing of the commissions inspection tour of the lower Mississippi valley.

Elliott Jones, a member of the Atchafalaya levee board and sole witness at the hearing here, urged that the Morganza be converted into a controlled floodway, instead of a fuse plug levee as at present.

Just what the engineers have agreed upon will be explained when their technical report is made public.

Jones also urged that an early start be made on extending the Atchafalaya levee below Morgan City, at the lower end of the floodway. It was assured by the commission that the engineers were anxious to get work completed on the project.

The commission members, after completing their trip separated and departed for their home stations. The six-day tour started last Monday night aboard the U. S. S. Mississippi at Cairo, Ill.

Senator Overton, Democrat, Louisiana, flood control leader who accompanied the commission on its tour, left today for his home in Alexandria for a brief stay.

Overton, in the hearing at Baton Rouge, endorsed the development of inland waterway harbors in the lower valley "wherever economically advisable."

"I strongly advocate inland harbors for our inland waterways," Overton said.

Among cities seeking harbor improvements are Vicksburg, Baton Rouge, Greenville, Helena, Natchez and Memphis.

The inland harbor of New Orleans has been completed, the senator said.

RUSSIA

Britain gave Russia in anticipation of dividing up the fleet.

It was agreed that all but a few Italian submarines would be sunk, with the remainder to be kept for experimental purposes. British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was said to have insisted upon having the submarines sunk.

A claim of Brazil for one Italian warship to replace a Brazilian ship sunk by an Italian submarine was considered briefly, it was reported. The matter will probably be referred to the committee on experts.

Bevin asked that Greece be given a cruiser to replace one sunk before the war, and it was indicated that the experts would agree.

There was no discussion at the third session on France's proposals to add internationalization of the Ruhr and detachment of the Rhineland from Germany to the conference agenda, reliable reports said.

NIMITZ WILL SPEAK

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—(AP)—Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz will deliver the principal address at a memorial convocation on June 19 honoring the Tulane dead of World War II, Dr. Rufus C. Harris, president, announced today. Members of the families of those who died will be sent special invitations.

Part of our service is to write policies that will fit your needs and cover all probable hazards. Another part is to settle claims on such policies quickly to prevent financial loss. Ours is a service worthy of your consideration.

JUST A YEAR AGO TODAY—

He didn't plan it this way. You would have to turn the picture upside down to understand how Benito Mussolini expected some day to stand, erect and with upraised arms, before a victorious Italian people. But here he hangs by his heels (in a historic picture taken in Milan on April 28, 1945), ghastly symbol of the fall of dictators. Sharing his inglorious end are his mistress, Clara Petacci, and a Fascist party leader, Achille Starace. They, like Il Duce, were shot by Italian partisans, then kicked and spat upon by howling mobs.

BAR BACKS

Clark called for an immediate increase of $5,000 in the salaries of the federal judiciary.

Asserting that the salaries paid judges is entirely out of proportion to the responsibilities attached to their work, Clark said "to deny an immediate increase of $5,000 to all federal judges would seem to be, in my opinion, a dangerous and short-sighted policy. A better judiciary and the better administration of justice await the day when judges are paid what they deserve.

Clark told the Louisiana jurists and attorneys that "existing salaries are a deterrent in obtaining outstanding men for our judiciary. During my short tenure as attorney general several men have turned down life-time positions on the bench because of the inadequacy of the salary."

Saying that federal judicial salaries never have been truly adequate, Clark pointed out that England, Ireland, India and many of the states of the Union all pay higher salaries for comparable work. "I told the subcommittee of the Senate committee on civil service at hearings held last November "from a comparative standpoint, the salaries are miserable.' I am still of the same opinion."

Nelson S. Whitty, New Orleans, was elected chairman of the section on trust estates, probate and movable property law; George Schoenberger, Jr., was re-elected taxation section chairman; Richard B. Montgomery, Jr., of New Orleans, the insurance section; Paul G. Barron, of Plaquemines, the section on administrative law.

Leon Sarpy, New Orleans, was named delegate to the American Bar Association house of delegates for a two-year term by unanimous vote.

The association referred to its legislative committee a proposed bill for a Louisiana drivers' license law.

District selections for the association nominating committee includes E. J. Deverges and John Pat Little, first and second; Bennet Voorhees, Lafayette, third; Milton Trichel, Shreveport, fourth; Vernon Sims, Oak Grove, fifth; Carlos Spaeth, Baton Rouge, sixth; O. P. Stockwell, Lake Charles, seventh, and John L. Pitts, Jr., Alexandria, eighth.

"A United States of the World" was advocated by Benjamin Y. Wolf, New Orleans, retiring president of the Louisiana Bar Association, in his farewell address yesterday.

"We must strive to make the world democratic. It cannot continue to be half democratic and half autocratic and have lasting peace," he declared.

Support of the Louisiana Bar Association in securing uniform laws for Orleans and country parishes was solicited by Walter Lemann, Donaldsonville attorney, who submitted the proposal to the legislation committee of the association.

Lemann said that it was the hope of supporters of this measure to delete from the state constitution and state laws the recurrent phrase, "Parish of Orleans expected," and bring the entire state under the same regulations.

Lemann said it now is necessary for country parish lawyers "to take a refresher course" before they go into New Orleans courts to practice because of the multitude of legislation from which Orleans Parish is excepted, or which applies only to that parish.

The proposal will be considered by the legislation committee of the association, along with other measures submitted, and if acted on favorably will be returned to the association at its next convention for voting.

Perry, Monroe; Mrs. Lew Hammonds, Hodge; and Mrs. Ella Gilbert, Quitman.

VETERANS COMMITTEE FAVORS HOUSE BILL

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(AP)—The American veterans committee tonight expressed its preference for a House bill for terminal leave pay to enlisted men instead of a Senate modification.

Under a bill introduced by Representative Rogers, Democrat, Florida, enlisted personnel would receive pay for all unused furlough time up to 120 days.

The Senate bill, introduced by Senators Johnson, Democrat, Colorado, Maybank, Democrat, South Carolina, McFarland, Democrat, Arizona, and Chevez, Democrat, New Mexico, provides for flat payments to discharged veterans of $200 to those who served overseas and $100 to those who did not. Enlisted personnel still in service would get terminal leave pay under the House plan.

V. F. W. TO SELL BUDDY POPPIES

Practice Discontinued During War, To Be Resumed

After a lapse of four years, the Rodney J. Hobbs Post, veterans of Foreign Wars, will resume its sale of buddy poppies again this year and May 25th has been set aside as Buddy Poppy Day in Monroe.

The post discontinued its Buddy Poppy sale at the beginning of the war on account of the numerous campaigns of money raising and made its contribution to the VFW Widows and Orphans National Home by other means but since the war is over and things getting back to normal it was decided by the post officers to hold the sale this year.

Recent photographs in the press shows President Truman buying the first Buddy Poppy from a little girl, a resident of the National Home and the daughter of a deceased World War II veteran. Senior Vice-Commander Robert B. Stuart is serving as Post Commander in the absence of C. D. Brooks and will head the committee on the sale to be held on Saturday, May 25th which the council may act unanimously when it reconvened.

Young ladies, friends of the post, together with the young wives and sisters of veterans, will be asked to make the sale.

There was a possibility that the council might become snarled Monday on the question of whether the Hodgson resolution was a procedural or substantive matter. If procedural, a vote of seven of the 11 members of the council would carry it. If substantive, Russia by a veto could kill it, for the charter gives the right of veto on substantive matters to anyone of the five big powers—Russia, Britain, France, China and the United States.

De la Colina professed optimism despite that there has come no word from the Russians indicating any change of heart.

The Mexican was approaching his 10 colleagues in the council on the basis of the breakfast-table resolution put before the council in its brief session yesterday by Lt. Col. W. R. Hodgson, Australian delegate.

This resolution, on which every delegate except Russia was more or less agreed, would do three things:

1. Take note, as France and Poland desire, of condemnation of the Franco regime of Spain by the San Francisco conference of the United Nations, by the first general assembly of the United Nations in London, and by the delegates in discussions since the question arose in the council.

2. Resolve the council to make further studies to determine whether the situation in Spain endangers peace and, if so, what to do about it.

3. Authorize a sub-committee of five council members to examine the statements made before the council concerning Spain, receive further statements and documents, conduct such inquiries as the sub-committee deems necessary, and report back to the council as soon as practicable.

government has no intention of requisitioning wheat from farmers.

He made no direct reference to the possibility of requisitioning wheat now held by mills and elevators, which it is within the power of the department to do, but said:

"And I want to say right here that there is no thought on the part of the Department of Agriculture that wheat should be requisitioned from farmers.

"The farmers I have talked with in the last two days convince me that everyone will do what can be expected of him. The government will offer him every incentive but requisitioning of wheat from the men who produce it is not in our minds."

Acheson told reporters yesterday that more drastic steps must be taken to get wheat and flour for overseas needs. One way to do this, he added, is to go and take wheat or flour.

PROMINENT MONROE WOMAN SUCCUMBS

Mrs. R. H. B. Gibson, prominent in women's club work in Monroe, died late yesterday afternoon in a local hospital.

Mrs. Gibson, a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., resided here at 401 Hudson Lane. She was a past board member of the Young Women's Christian Association here and a member of the Welcome Home Book Club, the Welcome Garden Club, and the First Presbyterian Church.

For many years Mrs. Gibson was a teacher in the schools of Little Rock and Pine Bluff, Ark. Twenty-three years ago she established her home at Pine Bluff and taught there and in Little Rock until ten years ago when she came to Monroe to make her home.

She is survived by her husband, Ralph H. B. Gibson, Monroe; a son, Ralph Gibson, Jr., senior in Neville High School; an aunt, Mrs. Harriette Rahn, Sunbury, Pa.; and three cousins, Mrs. Leo Shultz, Sunbury, and Mrs. Olga Lechner and Walter Heerlein, both of Pittsburgh.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Mulhearn Funeral Home with the Rev. Ernest Duncan Holloway, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Monroe, officiating. Interment will follow in Riverview Burial Park.

DAYLIGHT TIME

Illinois, Minnesota, Florida, Michigan, South Carolina, Kentucky, Missouri, New Mexico, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Ohio, Louisiana, Delaware, Oregon, Maine and Maryland.

ORLEANS WILL BE ON ADVANCED TIME

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—(AP)—Beginning tomorrow, New Orleans and the commuting area immediately around it will be on different time from the rest of Louisiana.

The city by ordinance adopted daylight saving time, and the parishes of Jefferson, St. Bernard and Plaquemines followed suit. Clocks will be set an hour later tonight—officially at 2 a. m. tomorrow—and for the rest of the summer it will be noon in the New Orleans area when it's 11 a. m. elsewhere in the state.

Most transportation companies here will continue to operate on standard time, complicating life a bit for traveling and commuting Orleanians. Pan American airways, however, adjusted the time of its daily flight to and from Latin America to conform to the new scheme.

Various other communities in Louisiana discussed daylight saving and some conducted unofficial polls, but none adopted the change.

CHAMBER FIGHTS

posed by T. A. Frye, director of the gas conservation commission at Baton Rouge.

Merchants, farmers and professional men all joined in the protest without a single dissenting vote. In their protest they said that any additional tax burden on gas would greatly diminish markets, stop the drilling of wells, decrease the value of leases and hurt every consumer of gas.

They also protested against any additional sales tax and opposed an increase in the automobile license fee from $3 to $8 as proposed by members of the legislature from Natchitoches.

A parish committee composed of W. B. Dendy, justice of the peace at Bernice; Mrs. Frank Seicfert of Bernice; Commissioner O. A. Pepper of Junction City; Deputy Farr of Lillie, and parish committeemen F. Gulley and Harver G. Fields of Farmerville, and other citizens, have been active in securing petitions and holding community meetings to discuss the question of protest.

A number of letters appealing to both senators of this district to oppose the tax raise have been signed and mailed to the senators.

The official flag of Alaska was designed by a 13-year-old boy.

HEARING ON GAS

and against the increase, including statements that it would injure Louisiana industry using gas as fuel, that its constitutionality might be challenged and result in "legal complications."

In a talk before a Louisiana Motor Transport Association convention in Alexandria, Brumfield said a "preferrable means might be to amend the constitution to authorize the legislature to regulate by statute the proportionate burden of the separate severance tax on the various owners of interests in natural gas production.

Frye in a later talk, before the Louisiana Municipal Association in the same city, declared that the state's industrial future depends on the degree of conservation of its gas resources, and emphasized that the gathering tax, unlike the severance tax, is on gatherers rather than well or royalty owners.

Brumfield had reported that his committee had heard testimony that the gas industry is "paying more than its just share of the tax burden;" Frye commented that he was "not of the opinion that natural gas is now paying its rightful share of our tax burden."

Frye is expected to testify at the hearing in behalf of his proposal.

Members of the commission, created by the 1944 legislature to make a study toward more nearly equitable tax laws and their codification, are Brumfield, Leo S. Guenther, Fred G. Hudson, Jr., E. Leland Richardson and A. L. Wedgeworth.

Opposition to the proposed gas gathering tax raise already is organizing. The Shreveport Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday promised a fight "with every possible means" against the proposed increase, saying it would prevent additional industry from coming into the state and might drive out some existing industry.

MRS. BILL FUDIKER PAINFULLY BURNED

Mrs. Bill Fudickar, Bastrop, daughter-in-law of Mrs. Paul Fudickar, Monroe, was painfully burned about the face and shoulders yesterday at her home in Bastrop, and she was a patient at St. Francis Sanitarium here last night.

Mrs. Fudickar was said to have been preparing a roast in the oven of her stove, and as she attempted to turn the roast it was said to have suddenly slipped, splashing hot grease on the young woman.

WANTS LIVERPOOL EXCHANGE OPENED

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 27.—(AP)—The foreign affairs committee of the Southern Cotton Shippers Association reported today that the cotton trade would be more heartily in favor of the loan to Great Britain if the British government would permit the Liverpool cotton exchange to re-open.

The association convening here for its 31st annual meeting adopted a resolution urging the dismissal of the two members of the cotton states arbitration board at Atlanta who handle the arbitration of short staples. The action was prompted by dissatisfaction over some of the board's rulings.

The association voted to recommend to the New York cotton exchange that it remain open on Saturdays throughout the summer and open and close one hour later during the month of daylight saving time to accommodate cotton markets in the central and western belts.

J. E. Gould of New Orleans was elected president to succeed Ben W. Townes of Greenwood, Miss.

LIFE'S OUTLOOK CALLED BRIGHT

Sockman Sees World Holding Together In Atomic Age

RUSTON, La., April 27.—(Special)—Using as his subject "A Date With Destiny," Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, minister of the National Radio Pulpit and pastor of Christ Church, New York City, Friday night predicted to a Louisiana Tech audience that the future holds much to be desired as an aftermath of the war and the present atomic age.

The famed clergyman, who has held the same pastorate for 29 years, declared in a lecture sponsored by the college's concert association that "the tremendous power of atomic energy may give to some a helpless sense of weakness" but added that "we must have faith to match our fears."

"The frame-work of the world is fireproof," Dr. Sockman averred. "In this post-war era, I look for a florescence in the fine arts, for instance, that will surpass anything the world has ever known."

Though optimistic about the chances of "meeting our date with destiny," Dr. Sockman cautioned against pitfalls that may mar those chances.

"Life today is easier physically but harder morally," he said. "People want excitement, thrills, fast living. Just try standing on a busy street corner in New Orleans, Shreveport, Monroe, or even here in Ruston, and reciting Gray's 'Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard.' It goes: 'The lowing herd winds slowly o'er the lea, the ploughman homeward plods his weary way,' etc. There's not much in that poem that fits the fast clip of this age."

Frequently injecting witticisms into his lecture, Dr. Sockman derided grownups who "want to be in heaven, sitting down" and college students "who arrange their class schedules so they will have no classes earlier than 10:00 o'clock or higher than one flight of stairs."

"To assure our possibilities of meeting our date with destiny," Dr. Sockman maintained, "we must concern ourselves with the proper use of our leisure. America can be undone by the misuse of leisure as surely as it can be undone by the misuse of labor.

"We must develop a brotherhood to match our new neighborhood," the minister philosophized.

Pointing to the war and its geographical significance, Dr. Sockman said:

"Five years ago, if you were to have asked the president of this college, Dr. (Claybrook) Cottingham, where the Solomon Islands are, he probably would have said they were in the Old Testament.

"We must do something to stop all this suspicion about Russia," the speaker insisted. "We must make the United Nations work."

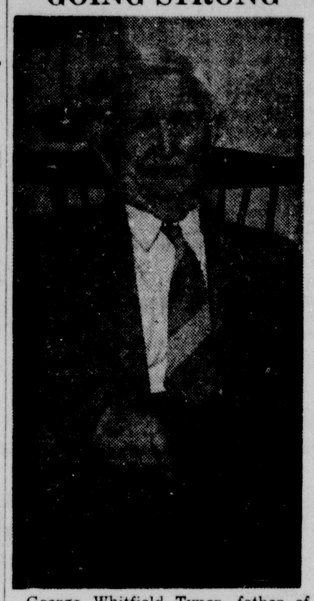
GOING STRONG



George Whitfield Tyner, father of G. E. Tyner of the Tyner Petrus Co., of West Monroe, was born in Neshoba County, Miss., April 24, 1849, and was 97 years old Wednesday.

Mr. Tyner can still see and hear very well and likes to listen to the radio programs. He attended church at the Ridge Avenue Baptist Church Easter Sunday, and was presented with flowers for being the oldest person present. He joined the church at 14 and has led a well-balanced life and one in which he has shown moderation in all things.

MISS PERKINS STATE OFFICER OF P.-T. A.

Miss Kate Perkins, instructor in history in the Ouachita Parish High School, was named fifth vice-president of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher Association in the annual election of officers at the state convention in Shreveport Friday.

Miss Caro Lane, state physical education director, seventh vice-president; Mrs. J. K. Butler, of Oil City, secretary. Board appointments made Thursday filling vacancies in the state organization were Mrs. George P. Meade, of Gramercy, treasurer, and Mrs. W. L. Gilmer, of Stonewall, historian.

'REPORT OF THE CARETAKER;' STORY BEHIND GOSS HOME

By Frank Holloway

"The Report of the Caretaker," casually noted every month by Monroe newspaper readers, reminds them vaguely that there is such a place as the Mary Goss Home for Old Colored People. Comparatively few residents know more about it than just that. Fewer still have ever seen the low, rambling brick structure with its two acres of grounds on White street in Booker T. Washington addition that comprise the institution itself. And probably none of the younger generation of newcomers to the city ever heard how it came into being or the remarkable story of its white woman founder, Mary Goss.

Now this is not an appeal for funds. The Caretaker, 52-year-old colored Belle Sherman, who has been called by neighbors "the hardest-working woman in Louisiana," takes care of solicitation for public aid. And she is doing all right in that respect, thank you, as she is in the conduct of what, to the score of aged and enfeebled Negro inmates, is a veritable paradise on earth. No, this comment is the result of curiosity aroused by one of Belle's routine reports that led to the questions, "Who was Mary Goss and why did she have such an interest in the Negro race as to endow such an institution."

The popular version of the actual gift responsible for the home, as related by old timers here, is briefly told as follows: Twenty-seven years ago the then 50-year-old, twice-widowed Mrs. Goss, who operated a little food shop on DeSiard street at Five Points and was known in that neighborhood as only well-to-do, became seriously ill and was found to be suffering from cancer. When she was told by her doctor she had but a short time to live, she summoned Charles E. Bynum, who had sometimes acted as a business advisor for her, and handed him a satchel.

"Don't open this until after I am gone," she told Mr. Bynum. In it you'll find my will and instructions what to do with what I have." After she had died a short time later, Mr. Bynum opened the satchel as directed and, along with the will and written instructions, he found $30,000 in cash!

Caretaker Belle doesn't know if that story is true and correct in its details. But she does know a lot about Mary Goss and her strange life here; also that the will provided not only for the home for aged colored but bequeathed a considerable sum to the Baptist church to be used for a home for white orphan children. The church used its bequest for the erection of what now is known as the Mary Goss cottage at its orphans' home in Monroe.

The will also directed that Mrs. Goss be given a "very simple" funeral service and stipulated that her casket cost "not more than $25."

According to the caretaker, who says she obtained the facts from pioneer residents of the Five Points area, the German-born Mrs. Goss and her first husband (name long forgotten) came to Monroe with a performing dogs show, traveling in a horse-drawn coach, and after exhibiting for a few weeks, decided to quit the road and remain here. Following the death of her husband, Mary married Goss, whose first name is not recalled, and when she again was widowed she became the "hired girl" in the home of the Herrin family at $2.50 a week. From those wages she saved $100 and, with another $100 borrowed from a man said to be still living on St. John street, she opened a little food shop at Five Points, catering to Negroes. At that time the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific railroad, now the Illinois Central, was being built through Monroe and she carried huge baskets and sold lunches to the Negro track workers.

There is every evidence that she prospered, for shortly after the First World War she had acquired the building at 510 DeSiard street, until recently occupied by the Odom hardware store. Always very religious, Mrs. Goss established a "sanctified church" in the building and became teacher and preacher to colored persons who came there in great numbers. She was assisted by a white lay preacher named Swayzee, Belle Sherman recalls.

It was at this church that Belle, always a volunteer welfare worker among the colored, met Mrs. Goss and a friendship developed between them.

After Mrs. Goss' death a reputed step-son appeared here and lay claim to her considerable estate. He pressed the action for several years and although the will was held to be unbreakable, he finally accepted a comparatively small sum from the trustees to waive any possible interest. Then the provisions of the will were duly carried out.

The carved cornerstone of the home attests that it was erected in 1932 and names Mr. Bynum, O. B. Morton and Charles E. Bynum, Jr., (the two latter deceased) as the original board of trustees. The architects, the inscription adds, were J. W. Smith and Associates and the contractor and builder was W. C. Sally.

Belle Sherman has been caretaker from the start. "I think Mrs. Goss must be glad to know I'm here because I do things the way I think she would want them done. That's why I have stayed on for 14 years. She always told me she had gotten all her money from the colored people and wanted it to go back to them."

Caretaker Sherman has done well. With no funds left for maintenance after the home was erected, she has sought to make the institution self-supporting, and, excepting for the few dollars in cash and supplies contributed monthly by well wishing Monroe citizens and business firms, she has succeeded in keeping the place going by her own efforts. Some of the inmates are wards of the state welfare department and the home is paid by that organization for their care.

Only a very few of the old colored people in the home are able to do any work whatever and but two of the 11 men can even make their own beds. Particularly during the war, the caretaker has had a constant help problem and she considers herself fortunate when she can have a cook and a kitchen man and a boy to help tend the big "garden patch" that supplies the tables with fresh vegetables, to tend the two cows that provide milk and butter, and the flocks of chickens and turkeys. When she can spare them, the caretaker adds to revenues by selling products of the two-acre "farm."

Caretaker Belle's day begins before the sun is up and it oftimes extends far into the night. For she is matron, maid, nurse, waitress and about everything else at times to the almost helpless and often ill old people in her charge. And it's a seven-day week.

Among her charges is at least one ex-slave. That's Priscilla Logan, who "must be about a hundred." The tiny little old Negress recalls she was "big enough to chop cotton" when she was sold with her father and mother by their Virginia owner to the Pargoud plantation, which included land now the site of the Iron Mountain railroad shops here. Priscilla is quite a help around the institution, her chief duty being wiping dishes after each meal. Jim Harris, a wizened little man who doesn't know how old he is, insisted he was "born a slave up in Illinois."

Last Monday evening Belle entertained her flock at an ice cream supper. The ice cream was provided by Mrs. Ida Kaplan. For the occasion the old men and women were garbed in spotless white clothing—garments given to the caretaker by white residents of the city from time to time and carefully mended and pressed by her. Assembled on the long screened porch in front of the women's dormitory, the snow white-clad group looked like nothing so much as a crowd of aged angels in a heavenly scene from "Green Pastures."

Cleanliness seems to be the keynote of the whole place—the big sleeping wards, the reception room, the dining room and kitchen, the two hospital rooms and the tree-shaded yard.

Church services for the inmates are held on three Sundays of each month and every Thursday night, with both white and colored ministers and lay preachers conducting them.

It was said earlier the old colored folks view their home as a paradise on earth and that is entirely understandable. For, thanks to Mary Goss and the kindly colored woman who was delegated to carry out the donor's wishes, they have every comfort and convenience and—as Tom Harris added—a chicken dinner every Sunday! Belle herself said she is sorry she is unable to make their happiness quite complete—watermelons have refused to grow in her truck patch.

This may serve to give Monroe residents a better understanding of the origin and purposes of the Mary Goss Home for Aged Colored people.

Watch for the next monthly report of Caretaker Belle Sherman.

WOODROW DOWNS IS ASSISTANT AGENT

MARION, La., April 27.—(Special)—Woodrow A. Downs has been appointed assistant demonstration agent of Union parish and has assumed his duties.

He is a graduate in agriculture from the university, having received his degree in 1940. He taught vocational agriculture and was assistant agent in Ouachita parish before entering the army. He was in the service for 42 months, 15 of which was overseas. Mr. Downs is a native of Jackson parish. He succeeds Albert Blanchard who served as assistant agent on a temporary assignment during the war.

FIREMEN ASK RETURN OF CRUTCHES, CHAIRS

The "Crutch and Wheel Chair Exchange," operated by Monroe firemen is shy much of its stock and is unable to fill current requests from injured and invalid persons, members of the department said Saturday.

About 75 pairs of crutches and all three of the exchange's wheel chairs have not been returned by borrowers, the firemen explained, and they issued an appeal to those who are through using the equipment to send it back to Central Station at once.

All of the 160 pairs of crutches used in this free service to the public were built by the firemen themselves and the old wheel chairs, which were donated to the exchange, were repaired in the station workshop.

Franz Joseph Haydn, the wheelwright's son who became one of Austria's greatest composers, taught both Beethoven and Mozart.

LABOR STATUS HERE IS GIVEN

Unemployment Conditions Listed By U. S. Employment Service

A report of the Monroe labor market is given out by S. P. Riser, local manager of the United States Employment Service. He shows that gross unemployment in this parish is placed at 3,500 of which number 600 are females and 2,300 are veterans.

Four hundred and sixty-five veterans from Ouachita parish were released from the armed forces in March.

Total employment in 25 reporting establishments dropped 66 from February 15 to March 15 with a decrease of 114 females for the same period. Thirteen manufacturing establishments show a total increase of 43 workers with a decrease of seven females. Eleven non-manufacturing employers show a net increase of 19 workers with a decrease of five females. In governmental establishments, there was a decrease of 128, of which 112 were female.

Applications for work in the active file show a total decrease of 357 during March, while applications for women increase 50 and veterans increased 56. This increase in female applicants is caused by veterans returning to former jobs.

The ban on commercial construction has altered work in approximately 3/4 of a million dollars' worth of construction projects.

Wholesale and retail trades are steadily increasing their forces as material and supplies become available.

Below is a table of Monroe local office activities:

CANTATA TO BE GIVEN 2ND TIME

First Methodist Choir To Repeat Easter Program Tonight

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock, the choir of the First Methodist Church under the direction of Mrs. Estelle Sanders, choir director, will repeat the Easter cantata, "From Olivet to Calvary," by J. H. Maunder.

One of the most popular of passion week cantatas, "Olivet to Calvary," recalls, simply and reverently, the scenes which mark the last few days of the Saviour's life on earth and some of the reflections suggested thereby. The rejoicing of the multitudes with Hosanas and palms, the view of Jerusalem from the steep of Olivet, the lament over the beautiful city, the scene in the temple, and the lonely walk back over the mount at night, form the chief features of the first part of the cantata.

Part two opens with the supper of the Passover at which Jesus washes his disciples' feet and gives to his friends the new commandment of love for one another as a sign of true discipleship. From this, the scene passes to the infinite pathos of the Garden of Gethsemene, the sudden appearance of the hostile crowd, Jesus forsaken by his disciples, His utter loneliness among ruthless foes, the tumult before Pilate in the judgment hall, the passage of the Cross, the tragedy and triumph of Calvary.

As a fitting climax to this beautiful cantata, the choir will sing the majestic "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah."

Heard in solo passages will be Miss Polly Cole, Mrs. Estelle Sanders, Harold Riggs, Mrs. A. M. Serex, Dr. Rodney Cline, Harry Wagner, Mrs. Alex Winn and Jack May.

This cantata is being repeated Sunday night in order to accommodate those who were unable to hear it last Sunday and those who would like to hear it once again. It is most capably and beautifully executed by the choir and is an outstanding musical event in the life of the community. The public is cordially invited to attend this special service.

NOTICE

We, the laboring people of the Twin Cities, believe in churches . . . we believe in Sunday Schools. We go to church, we go to Sunday School, we take our boys and girls to church and Sunday School. We went to church and Sunday School during the four war years on daylight savings time. We also believe in having some time for ourselves in the hot summer months away from our labor for recreation. We don't understand why when the polls show that from 90% to 95% of the people want daylight savings time that it is opposed by some of the ministers.

Six days a week we can get away from our offices, stores and our different work, which means six hours more in the evenings, or means that much more time to work in the garden, go fishing, play golf or arrange a nice picnic for our families and friends.

On Sunday it couldn't possibly affect us from going to Church or from going to Sunday School, so why all of the objection to daylight savings time for the summer months, and the summer months only, to give the people who work by the clock a little more time in the evening to enjoy themselves.

Daylight savings time does not affect the doctors, lawyers or the ministers who can come and go as they see fit. They don't have to report at 8:30 a. m. and stay until 5:30 p. m.

Let's live and let live. Let's all agree on this extra hour that daylight savings time will give us.

New York

NEW YORK, April 27.—(AP)—Domestic and Canadian mill buying strengthened cotton futures today. Most demand centered in nearby positions.

In early dealings the market was hesitant owing to favorable crop preparations and some week-end profit taking.

The failure of follow through selling to develop and insistent trade buying reversed the market trend in subsequent dealings.

Futures closed 40 to 65 cents a bale higher.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 27.—(AP)—A firm undertone prevailed in the grain market today. Trading was light with most activity provided by professionals. Continued emphasis upon the tight situation in cash grains acted as a buying stimulus.

At the close wheat, corn, barley and deferred rye contracts were unchanged at ceilings. Oats were unchanged to 3/8 higher, July 83, and May rye was 3/8-7/8 higher at $2.57 1/2-3/4.

ROMANCE SHATTERED BY FLIER'S DEATH

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, April 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Nancy Oakes de Marigny, gold mine heiress, and Flight Lt. Joergen Edsberg planned to marry after both obtained divorces, a member of Edsberg's family said today, but their romance was shattered when the Danish-born R. A. F. pilot crashed to his death last Monday.

Mrs. de Marigny, daughter of the late Sir Harry Oakes, Canadian mining magnate, arrived here by air from New York today and went immediately to the unclosed grave of Edsberg, who was buried yesterday in a military funeral attended by his son and widow.

The heiress said a short prayer and left a bouquet of pink lilacs at the grave, kept open at the request of the pilot's mother so that Mrs. de Marigny might drop flowers on the casket.

A member of Edsberg's family said Mrs. Olivia Ersberg, the flier's wife, had written her husband a letter agreeing to a quick divorce—which, according to Danish law may be effected in less than a week—and that Edsberg and Mrs. de Marigny later would have been married in Copenhagen.

Before leaving New York yesterday Mrs. de Marigny said she contemplated filing a divorce suit on her return against Count Alfred de Marigny, acquitted of a murder charge in the death of Sir Harry in 1943 in Nassau.

Ludwig von Beethoven, who, because he became deaf, never heard the greatest symphonies he wrote, died in poverty.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY ARRANGED

4-H Clubs From All Parts Of Parish Will Participate May 4

The annual 4-H Achievement Day will be held Saturday, May 4, at the Crosley School in West Monroe as announced by Audrey H. Dawson, associate Home Demonstration agent, and Norman H. Davis, assistant parish agent.

Four-H club girls and boys from the 21 clubs of the parish will take part in the days' activities. The following contests will be held and winners announced at the close of the day: Gardening, poultry, meat identification, crops judging, baking, food preparation, food preservation, clothing and song and yell.

The winners in the junior contests will be awarded a trip to the state fair in Shreveport in October.

The winners in the senior contest will represent Ouachita parish in the state contests to be held in July on the campus of Louisiana State University.

Each year the Kiwanis Club of Monroe, presents a loving cup to the junior and senior club making the highest number of points for the day.

The agents states that there is keen rivalry among the junior and senior groups for the two loving cups.

Friends of 4-H club members are invited to attend.

Famed for his light operas, written with W. S. Gilbert, Sir Arthur Sullivan also composed such hymns as "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

VICTORY GARDEN NEEDED BADLY

With Europe Hungry, Requirement Of More Food Here Is Stressed

By G. L. Tiebout

There never was time when every victory gardener should strive to make every plant count, more than right now. A time when we're on our mettle to try to help feed one-fourth of the world's people who are in dire distress for food. It makes no difference how this came about. History is history, and that's that. We cannot change the past but we can do a lot about the present and future. This is a time when we're dealing with the present in order to determine the future. Are you bent on making every plant in your garden count the utmost in making healthful nutritious vegetables in abundance so as to supply your family and friends, perhaps, with fresh vegetables so that the more staple foods, like wheat, vegetable oils, and animal fats for instance can be released for sending to the half-billion hungry peoples?

What constitutes a good plant? It must come from a good seed of an adapted variety. For good seed is half the crop and as to an adapted variety, let's remember tomatoes, for instance, are not just tomatoes. That's the reason we've been urging you to plant the Dixie variety in your garden. It's the best one for your purposes, bred at the university for home gardens in Louisiana. Plants, in order to count the most must be free of diseases. The common wilt is the worst tomato disease. If you have it in the soil of your garden where it stays from year to year for many years, you must plant the Louisiana Pink because it was bred at the university, too, and is the most resistant to the common wild disease. Bunch snapbeans are not just beans. The best all-around one is the Giant Stringless Green Pod variety. The seed should be free of the worst seed-borne diseases; namely, pod spot and halo blight. Good plants of butter beans come from seed of the Carolina Butter Bean for the pole variety and the Henderson's for the bush type. Plants that count in okra are those of the Louisiana Spineless Green Velvet to mention a few. If you're planting pole snap beans grow the Ideal Market until you can get the Savage bean.

Good plants in order to bear a maximum crop must be well fed and grow in soil of suitable physical condition. This means an abundance of decaying animal and vegetable matter called humus must be supplied. Victory garden fertilizer at the basic rate of ten pounds to the hundred feet of row should be used. This provides the nutrients in which soils are deficient. Plants poorly fed will make correspondingly poor food for you.

Good drainage is paramount. That's why row crops are always cultivated on ridges. The past three months have been unusually wet. Are the plants in your garden retarded accordingly?

And furrow irrigation is most helpful in supplementing the rainfall, for the deep south is subject to dry spells during the late spring, summer and early fall. Vegetables are mostly water. Their plants will not count for much when their roots are parching for water and the leaves are wilting. That hydrant nearby and sufficient length of garden hose to reach the furrows between the ridges is a God send for the victory gardeners of town, city and suburban areas and occasionally on farms.

He has been a Rotarian since 1924, and served three years as secretary of the local club.

PICK VETERANS FOR NEW POSTS

Director Joe Darwin Lists 15 Trainees For Advanced Assignments

BATON ROUGE, April 27.—(Special)—Advanced assignments for 15 trainees for positions in the state Department of Veterans' Affairs were announced Saturday by Joe Darwin, director.

The men, all veterans of World War II and carefully selected by Darwin on the basis of their suitability for veterans' service careers, began a six-months' course of instruction on February 4 in the department's expanded program for further assisting ex-servicemen and their dependents with their entitlements.

Two of the group, David C. Willett, of Colfax, and Walter Goodstein, of Lake Charles, have been assigned to the administrative office in Baton Rouge for specialized training in departmental work; and another, William G. Bayless, Crowley, will be tutored by Fred N. Gray, of Ruston, veterans' service officer for many years, in the inspection of parish service offices in southern Louisiana.

The others were assigned to various parish offices to receive practical experience in the interviewing and processing of claims of veterans and their dependents.

They are: Clyde E. Chaney, Clinton, to Tensas parish; George F. Deris and Thomas J. Ford, both of New Orleans, to Grant and St. Bernard parishes, respectively; John B. Griggs, Ruston, to Claiborne parish; Edward Kopfler, Hammond, to Tangipahoa parish; C. J. Lataxes, Westwego, to St. James parish; A. H. Malmstrom, Shreveport, to Caddo; Guy J. Prince, Lafayette, to Iberia; H. R. Vanderford, Alexandria, to Rapides; George A. Warner, Grayson, to LaSalle; and W. G. Robinson and D. S. Nurdin, both of Baton Rouge, to East Baton Rouge and Ascension parishes, respectively.

All the students have completed an intensive classroom course of instruction at New Orleans, under the direction of H. T. Dowty, of Alexandria, a veteran of many years in service work.

Besides the study of the various laws relating to veterans, methods of filing claims for the rights and benefits they are entitled to under law and general assistance furnished by the parish service officers of the department were studied.

The classroom curriculum also included lectures by the heads of the several divisions of the Veterans Administration regional office in New Orleans, the State Department of Labor, the United States Employment Service, the War Assets Corporation and the United States Civil Service Commission.

GRADY MERRIMAN BACK FROM TEXAS

Grady Merriman, of the Palace staff, has just returned from Houston, Tex., where he attended the conference and exhibition of the Southern Display Association. There were many exhibits from all parts of the United States and articles such as plastics, glass manikins, paper mache and numerous others were on display.

Besides Mr. Merriman, M. R. Jones, of the Toggery, and Sidney Shaughnessy, of the Woman's Shop, were present at the exhibition.

SAM JONES TO ADDRESS CLUBS

Former Governor To Address Clubs Of Twin Cities Wednesday

Ray Updegraff, president of the Monroe Kiwanis Club, announced Saturday that plans have been completed for the meeting to be held next Wednesday noon atop the Virginia Hotel.

The guest speaker will be former Governor Sam Jones, who will have as his subject "Louisiana and the South, and the Economic Future of the South." Mr. Jones is reported to have made considerable research on this subject and has addressed civic leaders and business men throughout various communities of the south in this respect.

According to Mr. Updegraff the public affairs committee of the Monroe Kiwanis Club has arranged the program, and as the speaker has a subject of vital interest for this community it is desired that business men and civic club members throughout the Twin Cities and northeast Louisiana will attend.

The following civic clubs in Monroe have voted to attend the affair as a joint meeting with the Kiwanis Club: The Rotary Club, the Exchange Club and the Y's Men's Club, and Mr. Updegraff stated that many members of other civic clubs are expected to be present.

A general invitation is extended to other club members and business men of the Twin Cities to be present.

N. J. C. TO SPONSOR FOUR-DAY BASEBALL CLINIC NEXT WEEK

Malone Invites Boston Braves To Supply Directors For Event

A baseball clinic, to be sponsored by the athletic department of Northeast Junior College which has invited the Boston Braves of the National League to supply directors for a four-day program, will be held on the campus of N. J. C. here May 8, 9, 10 and 11, it was announced last night by Coach James L. Malone.

Coach Malone said he had contacted Charles L. Stemen, member of the Braves' official staff, with regard to obtaining directors for the clinic who would make capable "professors" in imparting valuable baseball lore to youngsters of this area.

"We are inviting the Braves to lend us directors," Coach Malone said, "and if the clinic proves to be the success we expect it to be, then the college athletic department will take steps to make its baseball clinic an annual affair."

Stemen informed Coach Malone that Henry "Heinie" Manush, Ben Tincup and Charles Stis, members of the Braves' organization, were currently in the south and would be available to serve as directors of the N. J. C. clinic.

Manush, American League batting champion of 1926, is a native of Alabama with a 15-year major league batting average of .331.

Tincup, an old-time pitcher, performed with the Philadelphia Phillies, played with the old Louisville Nationals, and hurled a no-hit game for Little Rock against Birmingham over two decades ago.

Coach Malone said the college athletic department would register all boys enrolling for the clinic and keep a record on each participant 16 years old and older. Boys under 16 will be permitted on the campus as observers and will not be registered for the clinic.

The clinic plans two sessions daily, and boys attending will do so at their own expense and supply their own baseball equipment in the way of gloves, shoes, etc.

The clinic, while expected to be especially attractive to youths with a yearning to improve their baseball ability, may also serve as an opportunity for returning servicemen to rehabilitate themselves and possibly begin the fashioning of new peacetime careers.

ILLINOIS LEADS IN PENN RELAYS

Four Relays Triumphs Barely Missed By Illini; Army, Navy Lag

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—(AP)—The University of Illinois athletes were the hottest thing on chilly, windswept Franklin Field today. They took the most coveted of events at the Penn Relays, the mile relay; barely missed a sweep of the four relay events in which they were entered, and won one individual event.

But for a bad pass of the baton in the trials for the 880 yard relay this morning, Illinois might have become the third team in the 52-year history of the meet to win four relay events. The Illini had taken the 440 and the sprint medley yesterday and made the best time in the half mile trials.

At the start of the anchor leg, however, Herb McKinley fumbled the pass from Jack Pierce and didn't receive the baton until he was outside the passing zone. As a result, the Illinois team was disqualified and Navy went on to win the final.

McKeinley more than atoned for that slip when he ran a great 46.9 quarter as anchor man on the mile relay team to turn what had been a close race into a rout. By virture of that leg, Illinois won its third title by some 15 yards over Navy, with Michigan third.

Just before the mile relay thrilled a crowd of about 35,000 persons, Dwight Eddlemann won the high jump for the second straight year with a leap of six feet four inches to score the only individual triumph for Illinois. Bill Mathis, Big Ten indoor sprint champion, could finish no better than third behind Bill Carter, former Pitt star, now competing for Tuskegee Army Air Field, and Charles Jupiter, of Howard University.

Michigan, a four race winner a year ago, failed to take a single event this year. Besides Illinois, Manhattan was the only college team to take more than one relay event, winning the distance medley Friday and the four mile relay today.

Army and Navy were pushed into the background after dominating the wartime track picture. The Cadets won one relay, the two mile, and turned up one individual winner, William Chyneweth in the javelin throw. Navy teams usually were contenders but their only victory came in the half mile relay after Illinois and New York University, another contender, had been disqualified.

BATON ROUGE, La., April 27.—(AP)—Warren Easton High School's Harold Burkert won the state high school golf individual championship here today with a score of 164 for the 36 holes.

James Strohm and Shirley Pichard, representing Lafayette High, won the team championship in the Louisiana State University - sponsored state high school tournament with an aggregate score of 336, shooting 166 and 170, respectively.

Placing fourth in individual competition, after Burkert, Strohm and Pichard, was George Bywater, Warren Easton, with 178; Tommy Cole, Baton Rouge, 182; Charles Reid, Neville of Monroe, 189, and Carter Chambers, Baton Rouge, 200.

Runners-up in team competition were Warren Easton 342; Neville, 381, and Baton Rouge, 382.

Individual and team top men will receive full scholarship to L. S. U. in addition to gold and silver golf ball awards given other winners.

MAROONS TROUNCE REBEL THINCLADS

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., April 27.—(AP)—Mississippi State's track team ran off with its second consecutive Southeastern Conference victory today, out-scoring Ole Miss, 81 1/2 to 49 1/2.

REVIVE VIRGINIA GOLD CUP EVENT

Casual Tweed Society Puts Steeplechase At Top Of Calendar

By Eudora Lyell

WARRENTON, Va., April 27.—(AP)—Post-war time arrives in dapper, horse-loving Warrenton when the sun comes up next Saturday, May 4, at 5:10 a. m.

That's the day by which Warrentonians have reckoned time since 1922—the gala day of the Virginia Gold Cup race.

In the discard since 1942 when the war took over, revival of the Gold Cup this year after a four-year interval will be the 22nd running of the blue-ribbon steeplechase.

The Gold Cup is Virginia's biggest sporting event of the year—and no dud on the social calendar, either. The actual running of the four-mile steeplechase on Broadview course—a course laid out by William DuPont on property now owned by Martin Vogel, Jr., formerly of Washington—is but a small part of the proceedings.

Cocktail parties, teas, luncheons, breakfasts, dances and a myriad of other gay parties precede, accompany and follow the Gold Cup. They're attended by people whose names dot social registers of the eastern seaboard—persons whose love of blue blooded horses gives them a common bond.

A good hunting horse hasn't lived until he's seen Warrenton and its environs. The rolling hills, lush green grass and overgrown trees might have been put there just for the pleasure of those who follow the hounds. The countryside resembles the hunt section of Kentucky with overtones of colonial plantation splendor.

The course was planned with an eye for the customers. Said to rank second to none in the east, each jump of the track can be seen easily from the hillside where the subscribers—elite among spectators—sit or stand. At the bottom of the hill horses parade in the paddock before going to the post. The riders change to their racing silks and weigh in at the jockey house. Horses, usually vanned in for the occasion, are stabled temporarily back of the hill.

The general admission crowd drives up across the course from the hillside retreat of subscribers. But many subscribers, too trek over to this large field for a preferred view of the running.

Besides getting for "keeps" two of the three $1,000 cups which have been retired, women haven't done badly in winning the rest of the races. Out of the 21 run, 11 were won by horses owned by the fairer sex. Mrs. K. E. Hitt of Middleburg, Va., and Mrs. Frank M. Gould of New York were the two ladies to retire Gold Cups by winning the trophy three times. Sumner Pingree's Flying Horse farm of South Hamilton, Mass., took the other.

Ever since mid-February workmen have been busy scanning every inch of ground for loose stones and holes on the course. Jumps were repaired or renewed and brush jumps refurnished with hundreds of small cedar trees. The stables and jockey house must be put into condition, saddle cloths checked and laundered, flags provided for the course and a thousand and one other details attended to.

Starting out as a single race open to the public in 1922, the Gold Cup increased so in popularity that an association was formed and several races added. Now subscribers or members are invited and others get in under the general admission gate.

Four races scheduled this year, the first at 3 p. m., include the Landowners' Race, one mile on the flat; the Fauquier Plate, one and one-half miles over hurdles; the Gold Cup, four miles over timber, and the Fox Hunters' Steeplechase, four miles over timber.

The meeting is supported not only by subscriptions, but also by funds made available by the United Hunts Racing Association. Any excess always is donated to charitable activities of Fauquier county.

CARDINALS BLANK CHICAGO CUBS, 4-0

Max Lanier Scores Second Shutout Of Season In Beating Bruins

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—(AP)—Hubert Max Lanier shut out the Chicago Cubs 4-0 today with a mixture of fast balls and explosive curves. He gave further promise of becoming the St. Louis Cardinals' No. 1 pitcher for 1946.

Max Lanier

Two double plays lifted Lanier out of early jams. With the valuable assistance of Cardinal base running as brilliant as in pre-war years and seven hits at the expense of two Chicago hurlers, the chunky southpaw recorded his second shutout of the season.

Terry Moore, welcomed back to his centerfield spot by 10,641 fans, pounded a double and single to drive in two runs. Young Dick Sisler's double in the Cardinal fifth provided Lanier with his first break over southpaw Bob Chipman. Sisler then scored with the first Red Bird run when Len Merullo missed Del Rice's grounder.

While Lanier held the Cubs to four hits, the Cardinals sped past third base in a highly annoying manner. Enos Slaughter walked with two out in the fifth and as Moore sent a clothes-line drive down the left field line raced around third and scored. Moore slid safely into third on the throw to the plate.

Chipman made way for a pinch-batter and relief Pitcher Henry Wyse was threatened to another Red Bird show of speed in the eighth. Red Schoendienst singled through short, Stan Musial popped out and on Slaughter's single to right Shoendienst raced to third. Moore singled to right and while Schoendienst was scoring Slaughter took third.

REDS WHIP PIRATES

CINCINNATI, April 27.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds pulled into a tie for fifth place with Pittsburgh today as Joe Beggs pitched the Redlegs to a 5-2 victory over the Pirates.

A crowd of 3,086 saw the Reds jump into a one-run lead in the first inning and then pile up more markers behind the steady pitching of Beggs, who registered his first victory of the season at Pittsburgh last Sunday.

Cincinnati bunched four hits in the fifth to score three runs and added another counter in the eighth on Grady Hatton's walk, a single by Mike McCormick and Eddie Miller's fly.

The Pirates went scoreless until the seventh when Bob Elliott was safe on Lonnie Frey's error, moved to third as Elbie Fletcher singled and then came home on Billy Cox's hit to right center.

SOFTBALL LOOPS ALTERING NAMES

Senior Circuit To Be Known As City League, Hesketh Announces

A change in the proposed names of the various softball leagues to be sponsored by the Monroe recreation department this summer and the assurance of the operation of a boys' baseball league this year were announced last night by Director Jack Hesketh of the recreation department.

The softball loop currently being organized as the Senior League will instead be known as the City League, Hesketh reported. The present Junior League will assume the name of Senior League, the Intermediate loop will claim the name of Junior League, and there will be no circuit known as Intermediate. The Midget League will go ahead with its present name. Age groups for the leagues will be the same as under the original setup.

Six teams have been lined up for the City League, a no-age limit circuit, Director Hesketh announced, with clubs accepted so far being Ouachita Plumbing, Southern Bell Telephone, Peacock's Jewelry, Amvets, American Legion and Cook and Preddy Sporting Store.

A meeting of managers and sponsors who plan teams in the City League will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Recreation Center, 1700 South Grand street.

Teams for the various other softball leagues are being requested to register as soon as possible so that definite plans for the opening of the season can be completed early.

Baseball will be coming back into its own here with the organization of a league for boys 16 years old and younger.

So far four teams have signed up, Director Hesketh said. They are Louisiana Training Institute, Memorial Methodists and two clubs that are so far without sponsors. One of the present sponsorless teams is composed of West Monroe boys. All teams, however, must have sponsors, and any firms desiring to back teams are invited to accept either of the teams now ready but seeking sponsors.

It has been planned to start play in the baseball league on May 18 instead of June 1 as originally outlined.

L. T. I. PELS DOWNED BY RECREATION, 7 - 1

The Louisiana Training Institute baseball team suffered its third loss of the week yesterday in bowing to the Recreation Center nine, 7 to 1, on the L. T. I. diamond.

Both teams came up with some fancy pitching yesterday, but errors spoiled otherwise stellar play over the five-inning route. C. J. Fontana, left-handed the Pels to two hits, while Charley Ferlito, L. T. I., was turning in a five-hit job while fanning eleven batters. Fontana whiffed ten batters.

Earlier defeats the past week were at the hands of Calhoun and Mer Rouge, the latter beating the Pels, 14 to 8, in a game in which Ferlito was easily the individual outstanding performer.

Despite six errors by teammates that hurt his chances of victory, Ferlito proved sensational on the mound and at the plate as he allowed opposing batsmen just seven hits, and then pounded the ball for five hits of his own, including tow home runs.

Principal Kermit Youngblood last night said Calhoun would give the Pels a return game here Tuesday afternoon, and Mer Rouge will be here Thursday afternoon.

TAG TEAM MATCH ON MAT PROGRAM

Graham, McDonald, LaRue, Kennedy On V. F. W.-Sponsored Show Tuesday

A tag team wrestling show, sponsored by Rodney J. Hobbs post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars here, will be presented Tuesday night at Gus Kallio's Arena, Promoter Kallio said last night.

Principals in the tag brawl will be Roy Graham, Texas cowboy, Jack "Sockeye" McDonald, an Oregon lumberjack, Jack LaRue, Washington Iowa, and Jack Kennedy, Dallas, Tex.

Tag shows have proven mighty entertaining and provide colorful interludes from straight wrestling matches, and Promoter Kallio expects a good turnout of csutomers for the Tuesday brawl.

A pair of preliminary matches in which the main event principals will make their introductory appearance before the fans will serve to determine the lineups for the tag scramble.

Graham, a giant Texan, has been billed to face McDonald, a newcomer to the southern circuit, in one of the one-fall openers, and LaRue will tangle with Kennedy, both grapplers well known to local critics, in the other one-fall scrap.

The winner of one opener will team with the loser of the other one-fall bout and they will appear as partners against the other set in the tag tussle. In the event of draw matches in the preliminaries, the partnership arrangement will be determined by the toss of a coin.

Promoter Kallio last night described "Sockeye" McDonald as a type of wrestler that he believed would prove quite attractive to his customers.

"Sockeye is a rough and tumble heavyweight who favors the crab hold," Kallio reported. "He's a former lumberjack of Salem, Ore., who weighs 228 pounds and stands five feet-ten."

Kallio said he also planned to use two referees, letting Allen Corbin and Bill Hartzell handle a preliminary each. He made no assignment of referee for the main event but said he was entertaining the idea of having two referees to work the match at the same time.

WINTON WINS SECOND MARYLAND HUNT CUP

GLYNDON, Md., April 27.—(AP)—Stout-hearted Winton and his owner-rider, Stuart S. Janney, Jr., climaxed a successful steeplechasing season today by racing to victory in the famed Maryland Hunt Cup before a crowd of 25,000 in Worthington Valley.

Victory in this toughest timber test in the country gave the 12-year-old gelding and his Baltimore owner a grand slam in Maryland's major point-to-point races for the second time and their second triumph in the Maryland Hunt Cup.

PITCHING, HITTING KEEPS PELS AHEAD

Dopesters Figure New Orleans Must Have 'Luck' To Hold Lead

By Kris Kreeger

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—(AP)—There does't seem to be any particular reason why the surprising New Orleans Pelicans are leading the Southern Association, except that most of the team is hitting and fielding well, and the pitchers are throwing some good ball.

Because the pre-season dopesters didn't figure the Pels to be pennant contenders, the theory might prevail that somebody must be "carrying" the club, or that the Birds have had a long streak of luck in running up ten victories against four defeats.

But the facts and figures indicate that the Pels have shown a well-balanced general team strength.

For instance, the club's highest batting average of .355 belongs to Outfielder Pete Layden, former Texas University football great. But Vernon Thoele, bespectacled second baseman, is the team slugger with four homers and five other extra base blows among his 19 safeties. Yet Tom Astbury leads in runs batted in with 11, and Paul Bruno has clouted the mightiest single homer.

Among the pitchers, Pete Hader has turned in the two best performances, a four-hitter against Mobile and a seven-hit shutout of Little Rock. But after allowing one run in 24 innings, he was bounced out by Memphis in the only one-sided defeat the Pels have suffered.

Curtis Johnson, relief hurler, has pulled several games out of the fire, without allowing a run in any of his brief stints. Otherwise the pitching has been good, although seldom brilliant.

Thus there are no stars who could be singled out. Maybe that's what confused the pre-season pickers. No Pelican appeared to be the best of anything in the league, and team balance is something hard to judge.

As for the element of luck, it's worked both ways. On successive nights, for example, the Birds scored winning runs against Little Rock on a balk and a walk. But in one of those games Pel errors had given away two runs, and an over-the-fence clout by Layden was ruled foul by inches.

The Birds have scored 74 runs and allowed 52 in 14 games. The average is 5.3 to 3.5. Four victories have been by one-run margins; but so have two defeats.

And the Pels have not been at peak strength, George Turbeville, expected to be among the league's best pitchers, hasn't pitched since he won the opening game, because of a cold and a blow in batting practice. George Washburn, probably the hottest hurler in the Southern during the closing weeks of last season, reported late and hasn't gotten into condition to pitch.

Ken Chapman, infielder acquired on option from the Boston Red Sox will join the club in Little Rock where the Pels open a series tomorrow.

Of course, the Pels haven't played Atlanta yet. But General Manager Charlie Hurth says, "if Chattanooga could take three straight from Atlanta we shouldn't be too much afraid of them."

PEACOCK FINED

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 27.—(AP)—To Manager Johnnie Peacock of the New Orleans Pelicans goes the dubious distinction of drawing the first fine and suspension of the 1946 Southern Association season.

Association President Billy Evans announced today that he had suspended Peacock for three days and fined him $50 "for conduct detrimental to the best interests of the game."

Evans said Umpire Howard Camp ejected Peacock from Friday night's New Orleans-Memphis game for "repeatedly" protesting a decision.

Peacock will be eligible to return to his club next Tuesday.

CHANDLER TOSSES 3-HITTER AT NATS

Yankees Coast To 9-0 Victory Over Senators Behind Pitching Gem

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(AP)—Spud Chandler spun a three-hitter today in pitching the New York Yankees to a 9-0 victory over the Washington Senators before 18,355 paying customers.

Spud Chandler

The victory, Chandler's third of the season, and his second via the shutout route, enabled the Yankees to break their first place tie with the Boston Red Sox and left the Bronx Bombers perched all by themselves on the top rung.

The bombers banged out an even dozen hits, including a home run by Joe Gordon and triples by Tommy Henrich and Charley Keller. Keller had a perfect day, with three hits and two walks. Gordon, who also got three hits, batted in three runs.

Walter Masterson, first of three Washington pitchers, was charged with the loss, his second of the year. Sherry Robertson, George Binks and Cecil Travis were the only Nats to solve Chandler's delivery, each slapping a harmless single.

TIGERS WIN IN 11TH

DETROIT, April 27.—(AP)—Coming from behind to tie the score on Eddie Mayo's double with two out in the ninth, the Detroit Tigers went on today to down the Cleveland Indians, 5 to 4, in 11 innings on Hank Greenberg's single with the bases loaded.

Shortstop Lou Boudreau's throwing error helped load the bases and kept the game alive for Greenberg's payoff liner down the left field line. Two were out when Hank broke up the game and after Paul Richards' single, Pitcher George Caster's sacrifice, an intentional pass to Mayo and Boudreau's low throw on Barney McCosky's bouncer loaded the bases.

BROWNS BLANK CHISOX

CHICAGO, April 27.—(AP)—Vern Stephens, who jumped from St. Louis to the Mexican League and back again this spring, combined his hitting with the shutout pitching of Sam Zoldak today as the Browns defeated the Chicago White Sox, 2-0 before 4,533 fans.

Zoldak, making his first start for St. Louis, stopped Chicago with three hits. The Brownie pitcher, who won three games and lost two in relief roles last year, and had won one game as a relief hurler this year, never was in serious trouble in the fast game that lasted but one hour and 34 minutes.

Stephens put St. Louis in front in the fourth inning when he smashed one of Orval Grove's pitches into the left field stands for his first round-tripper of the season. In the sixth, after Al Zarilla had tripled to right field, he singled to center to drive in the second run.

TEXANS DOMINATE DES MOINES SHOW

Five Texas Schools Come Through With Winners At Drake Relays

DES MOINES, April 27.—(AP)—Fleet-footed stars from five Texas schools and a gloomy rain from the heavens took the play today at the 37th annual Drake relays.

Texans triumphed in three relay races—the university quarter and half-mile events and the college mile—and two individual events—the 100-yard dash and high hurdles. In addition, they captured second places in the mile and quarter-mile relays, third and fifth places in the century, and fourth in the college mile relay.

The drizzle broke from low hanging clouds by the time the fourth event was finished, causing the 10,000 spectators in the horseshoe-shaped stadium to seek the shelter of raincoats and umbrellas.

A total of 620 athletes from 54 universities and colleges from 16 states were in the first post-war competition.

Billy Martineson, Baylor University, Waco, Texas, won the century in a close finish with Lloyd Labeach, the Jamaican sprinter from the University of Wisconsin, and Allen Lawler, University of Texas, who finished in that order. Labeach got a poor start which probably prevented his becoming a double winner. He captured the broad jump yesterday with a leap of 23 feet, 10 7-8 inches.

Martineson's time was :09.9, a tenth of a second slower than Labeach's time in yesterday's trials.

August Erfurth, following the tradition of Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, in producing sensational hurdlers, skimmed to a one-yard triumph in the 120-yard hurdles. Erfurth broke first and maintained his lead to the finish, with Tommy Mitchell of Indiana close behind.

Other stars from the Lone Star state to hang up victories were the Texas University half-mile relay quartet, the Baylor quarter-mile foursome, and the North Texas Teachers College mile team.

Abilene Christian College was the fifth Texas school to get into the scoring column with a fourth in the college mile relay.

Illinois retained its mile relay championship of 1945 by winning in 3:23.3—the same time as last year. While the Illini speedsters were competing here, another Illinois quartet won the same event at the Penn relays in 3:18.4.

SPORTS ROUND UP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—(AP)—To put it bluntly, this year's Penn relays haven't been so hot thus far . . . That goes for the performances as well as the weather and if anyone is looking toward the 1948 Olympics on the basis of 1946 feats, he'd better start looking somewhere else . . . The only kids who really have shown anything are the sprinters, hurdlers and weight tossers so it looks as if Uncle Sam would remain on the outside looking in when the international distance races are run a couple of years from now . . . of course, that climate might have had something to do with the poor races yesterday. It was strictly football weather—and not good football weather, either—cold enough to numb our two typewriter fingers, a strong wind blowing and drizzly rain descending from time to time.

One noticeable feature of the relays has been the feats of boys just out of the armed forces . . . Ralph Tate, the Oklahoma Aggies' hurdler, was wounded severly three times while fighting with the 83rd division. Irv Kintisch and Bernie Mayer, the NYU weight tossers, both are just out of service and Tom Quinn, the two-mile winner, still is in the navy. . . . One of the incidental surprises of the meet was the enthusiasm Greg Rice showed over the two-mile performance of Ray Buker, Jr. . . . Ray, whose dad won the two-mile here in 1921 and 1922, set the pace for about six laps before Quinn pulled ahead. . . . "He's the kid who did 9:30 in the middlewest," Rice commented. . . . It was only two years ago that Greg, now a rather plump guy holding a watch in the timers' box, set the Franklin field record of 9:12.2.

SHREVEPORT BEATEN BY MOBILE VOLLEY BALLERS

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—(AP)—The Mobile Y. M. C. A. tonight captured the Southern A. A. U. volley ball championship by defeating the Shreveport Y. M. C. A. 12-15, 15-12, and 15-7.

In third place was the New Orleans Y. M. C. A. team which defeated Bogalusa's Y. M. C. A. 15-8, and 15-12.

Ernest Knabe, National referee of the U. S. Volley Ball Association officiated at the tournament which was sponsored by the New Orleans Y. M. C. A.

Selected by Knabe as the all-tournament team were, spikers: Ray Stump, Shreveport; Charlie Davidson, New Orleans Y. M. C. A.; Arnold Payne, and Andy Vail, both of Mobile. Set-ups: P. R. Buckley, Marion Beroujon, Mobile; Jesse Moore, Shreveport, and Anzalo Castigliola, New Orleans. c

PLAYERS ARRIVE FOR CHECKER MEET

Checker players from five or more states are expected to participate in the Louisiana open state tournament to be held today, beginning at 10 a.m., at the Monroe Recreation Center, 1700 South Grand Street. Texas, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Alabama and possibly Tennessee have indicated they will have players in the tournament.

Two women players have stated they will take part in the tourney.

Some of the players from out of the city arrived in Monroe last night.

MONTY STRATTON OPENS SEASON WITH TRIUMPH

SHERMAN, Tex., April 27.—(AP)—Courageous Monty Stratton, who refused to stay out of baseball even though he lost a leg, has strongly indicated he will win those 25 games his manager predicted for him on his return to professional ranks as a pitcher in the East Texas League.

Stratton, in his first appearance for the Sherman Twins, beat Texarkana, 6-4, as a crowd of 2,154 cheered his every pitch and marveled at the fielding finesse of the former Chicago White Sox hurling star.

Monty had a little trouble on one of his trips to the plate but it just made the fans pull harder for him.

He drove a long one to center that would have been a safe hit by all standards, but Monty's artificial leg buckled midway to first. He was unwilling to give up, however, and began crawling toward the bag. He almost made it, being thrown out by only a few feet.

There is a league ruling allowing him a runner if he gets on base.

Stratton made good on four fielding opportunities—three assists and one put-out, including one double play. He fanned seven and allowed only seven hits.

PLAN REVIVAL OF SUGAR BOWL INVITATION TRACK

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—(AP)—The Sugar Bowl invitation track meet, discontinued during the war, will be revived here next December 29 as a part of the carnival of sports culminating in the annual Sugar Bowl football game.

President Sam Coronswet of the Midwinter Sports Association, said L. Dibenedetto, former National A. A. U. president, and chairman of the Sugar Bowl track committee, would direct the meet.

A tentative list of events includes the mile run, two-mile run, 440-yard low hurdles, 880-yard run, 120-yard high hurdles and a high school football shuttle relay.

"It is our plan to check the list of national college and A. A. U. champions and sectional stars following the close of t summer track season and to invite outstanding men in each of the five events," Dibenedetto said.

Romansch is a language derived from Latin and spoken by some 44,000 Swiss.

TIGER CLUB IS GIVEN BANQUET

Party Held At M. P. Clubhouse; Awards Are Made

The Tiger Club entertained the Neville football players who played last fall, and their dates, at a banquet in the Missouri Pacific clubhouse, Wednesday night. The party had originally been arranged for Bernstein park but due to weather conditions was changed to the clubhouse.

Joe Dawkins, president of the Tiger Club, presided and introduced E. L. Neville, Paul Neal, Courtney Oliver, Dr. W. L. Bendel and Coach Ruple who congratulated the players on their past record, team work and good sportsmanship. They also told of the style of football they played when they attended school.

During the dinner, the following boys were awarded gold tie clips: George Luffey, as outstanding player; Brooks Dawkins, as star back, and Hugh Smith, as star linesman. To insure that these prizes would be justly given the coaches of the opposing teams who played against Neville were asked to make the decisions and those who received the greatest number of votes received the awards.

After the dinner had been served and gifts presented, a program was given by members of the Clarice and Goldah Roan School of the Dance. Those who took part are: Camille Primm, Dixie Brown, Laura and Louise Russ, Ada Beth Dollar and Bette Jane Pettit. Mrs. Walter Beal was piano accompanist.

In closing the meeting, George Luffey expressed the appreciation of the football players for the banquet and awards that were accorded them.

LOUISIANA STATE AGAIN THUMPS ALABAMA, 7-2

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., April 27.—(AP)—With Mel Didier pitching six-hit ball, Louisiana State triumphed over Alabama, 7-2, today to win its third victory in four starts against the Crimson Tide.

Bill Henderson pitched for Alabama and allowed only eight hits. But many of them were bunched, and he was hampered by loose fielding. Henderson poled a double for the Tide's only extra base hit of the game.

Shortstop Lindsey led the Bengals at bat with two doubles. A teammate, Coates, also came through with a two-base blow.

ATTENTION!
All Dealers and Users of D. D. T. Insecticide. The manufacturers of GENUINE BRAND DDT guarantees that, if their product is properly applied, it will be effective in ridding your home of insects for a period of 3 months. If you are not thoroughly satisfied, full purchase will be cheerfully refunded. Our reason for making this attractive offer is to prove to the people that this insecticide is the true formula originated by the Geigy Co. of New York. This product is an emulsion and not an oil solution—It will not stain. Can be used in clothes closets and in storing winter clothes. This formula is also being used by the U. S. Public Health Service. Look for the white milky substance with the blue label. Remember the name and insist on GENUINE BRAND DDT. For further information on its usage, contact Brennan Utilities, Mfg., Monroe, La.

State Convention Slated For Monroe May Fifth And Sixth

Optometrists from all over the state will be in Monroe on May 5 and 6 as delegates to the state convention of the Louisiana Optometric Association which will have headquarters at the Frances Hotel.

Highlights of the convention will be a talk on the "Principals and Practices of Industrial Eye Care," by Dr. Jerome Heather, of Southbridge, Mass., and a description of the "Use and Possibilities of a New Plastic Contact Lense," by Dr. Joseph Menaker, of New York.

Leaders of industry throughout the state are invited to be present at Dr. Heather's talk at 2:00 p.m. on Sunday, May 5, at the Frances Hotel in Monroe. He will discuss methods whereby eye safety programs can be made effective and the techniques of decreasing fatigue and tension and increasing production through visual efficiency in the plant.

Dr. Menaker reports that Dr. William Feinbloom, under whose direction the new cone-shaped plastic contact lenses were developed, estimates that the new lenses will restore to useful sight more than 30,000 persons who are now almost blind because of eye injuries caused either by war casualties or by industrial accidents. Contact lenses can be inserted under the eyelid and are completely invisible. Unbreakable and more transparent than glass, the lense dissipates all forces acting on the eyeball as it moves, keeping them from the eye and eliminating friction.

Dr. Lloyd J. Landry, of New Orleans, chairman of industrial vision for the Louisiana Optometric Association, reports that during the war many of the operators of PT boats used contact lenses in order to be able to keep their eyes wide open in spite of water being thrown against them. He points out that these lenses have been most useful for all types of sports participation since there is no danger of eye injury through breakage, and that they have also been used by actors.

In taste, sake, the national beverage of Japan, resembles madeira of sherry wine. It is made from fermented rice.

600 SENIORS AT COLLEGE MEETING

Annual Visitation Day Is Packed With Varied Activities

Over 600 seniors from 19 high schools in northeast Louisiana were guests of Northeast Junior College Friday, April 26, when the physical education department sponsored the second annual senior visitation day, an event which college officials hope to make a tradition.

It was a full day packed with activities varied enough to please any high school senior. Committees headed by A. S. Huffman completed arrangements with a view towards making the affair both informative and enjoyable. At the end of the affair he asserted that he had never worked with committees which functioned so well. "Everyone did exactly what he was asked to do, and at the right time," he added.

Dean Rodney Cline declared enthusiastically, "I can think of no adequate way in which to express my pleasure over the day's activities. We had a splendid crowd, a diversified program, and a fine spirit of cooperation displayed by the faculty, staff, student body, high schools and friends in the Twin Cities. It was, indeed, a community project, he concluded. The dean spoke of generous contributions made by the education committee of the local Chamber of Commerce, radio stations and newspapers, all of which made possible a successful celebration.

The day's activities started with registration when visitors were given programs and maps of the campus drawn by Ellen Haynes, West Monroe sophomore and editor of the college yearbook. An assembly in Brown Hall auditorium included a vocal solo, "America," by Frank Parker, a welcome by Dean Cline, a group of spirituals sung by the women's sextet, skit presented by several members of Delta Psi Omega, and student orchestra numbers under the direction of Roy Whittington.

Visitors were then taken on tours of the campus and to departments in which they had special interest. Members of the Student Council, Purple Jackets and Gold Jackets served as guides throughout the day under direction of A. L. Tatum, registrar. Programs and exhibits arranged by various departments attracted unusual attention. A special edition of the college newspaper, Pow Wow, was published and given to all seniors.

The big barbecue in the stadium at noon was provided by the education committee of the Chamber of Commerce with J. S. Drew as chairman. Several kinds of meat, salad, cold drinks and ice cream comprised the menu. Assisting in the preparation and serving of the food were home economics students under the supervision of Miss Frances Kelso, instructor.

During the meal an impromptu program comprising skits and vocal numbers by college and high school students was staged on the field with James McBeth as master of ceremonies.

Following was the review of the R. O. T. C. unit of the college under direction of Capt. Bernard D. Reynolds, Jr., commandant. The rest of the afternoon was devoted to a series of activities including a tea dance in the Student Center, movies, soft ball, tennis, volleyball, badminton, table tennis, archery, horseshoe pitching, archery, rifle marksmanship instruction and firing.

High schools represented included: Ouachita Parish, Neville, Calhoun, St. Matthew's Delhi, Rayville, Bonita, Chatham, Okaloosa, Mangham, Tallulah, Oak Ridge, Clarks, Epps, Bastrop, Baskin, Forest, Enterprise and Columbia.

Dr. Stephen A. Caldwell, dean of the junior division of L. S. U. and supervisor-coordinator of the university's junior colleges, visited the local campus for the special occasion.

GROTTO PLANS ON INITIATION

Big Ceremonial Will Be Held Here On Next Saturday

Teflis Grotto M. O. V. P. E. R. will initiate its largest class of candidates since the war on Saturday, May 4. This being the first ceremonial in almost five years, the event is anticipated with enthusiasm.

The ceremonial committee named by Monarch W. C. Sullivan, comprises Past Monarch H. O. Hartman, director, who will be assisted by Fire Chief H. E. Roberts, Charles M. Mitchell, Ernest Schultz, Barney Mulhern, Pete Hadded, J. N. Marshall, Blondie Smith and Dr. B. M. McKoin. The refreshments committee will be headed by A. P. Kitchens, assisted by Carroll Wallace and John Griffith.

The ceremonial starts at 2 p. m. and will continue until 7 p. m. A recess will then be called and a bounteous banquet will be served to all members, candidates and their families at 7 p. m.

A special invitation is extended to wives of members. Monarch Sullivan states he has a big surprise for the ladies and urges all to attend. The Grotto often called "The Little Shrine," is the playground for Master Masons. All are elegible for membership and if interested in participating in the ceremonial and banquet should contact C. B. Hair, membership chairman.

The Grotto is not all play however. Over $100,000 was expended by this group throughout the nation in humanitarian work the past year. Cheer, relief and comfort was brought to the afflicted and less fortunate.

Cakes of salt once were used as money in both Tibet and Abyssinia.

OUACHITA PARISH HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR WILL PRESENT BRILLIANT OPERETTA FIRST WEEK IN MAY

The month of May will be ushered in on a wave of beautiful music from the operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance," with members of the Ouachita Parish High School choir members of the cast and Miss Velma Nichols and Miss Gail McDonald, directors. The event will take place May 6 at the parish school auditorium. The setting for the operetta, a moonlit rocky seashore, and a picturesque ruined castle, promises to delight the audience with the brilliant music and cleverly-written dialogue. The plot, an enthralling one, demands exceptional talent from all the principals and the chorus.

The cast is an interresting one with the leading male role played by Frank Parker. Other members of the cast are: The Pirate King, Jack Jones; Samuel, Tom Hayes; Major-General Stanley, Bob Stewart; Mabel, Mary Lou Jowers; Edith, Jo Ann Severance; Kate, Erline Hammer; Isabel, Joyce Toler; Sergeant of Police, Dan Chrisman; Ruth, Martha Prentiss.

When Frederic, the hero of the operetta, was yet a little boy, his nurse (Ruth) was told to apprentice him to become a pilot. She heard the word incorrectly and apprenticed him to a band of pirates, remaining with them herself as a maid-of-all-work. Although Frederic loathed the trade to which he had thus been bound, he dutifully served; and, as the curtain rises, he is seen preparing to leave the band of pirates and devote himself to the extermination of piracy.

He urges the pirates to join him in embracing a more lawful calling, but they refuse. Ruth, however, wishes to become his wife. Having seen but few women he does not know whether she is really as pretty as she says she is; but he finally consents to take her.

Just then a group of girls, all the daughters of Major-General Stanley, happen upon the scene. Frederic sees their beauty—and Ruth's plainness—and renounces her. Of these girls, Mabel takes a particular interest in Frederic, and he in her. The other girls are seized by the pirates and threatened with immediate marriage. When the major-general arrives, he can dissuade the pirates only by a ruse; he tells them that he is an orphan, and so works upon their sympathies that they let him and his daughters go free.

During the ensuing days and nights, however, this lie troubles the major-general's conscience. He sits brooding over it at night in a Gothic ruin. He is consoled by his daughters' sympathy and Frederic's plan of immediately leading a band of police against the pirates.

Meanwhile the pirate king and Ruth appear at the window and beckon Frederic: they have discovered that his indentures were to run until his twenty-first birthday, and—as he was born on February 29—he has really had as yet only five birthdays. . . . Obeying the dictates of his strong sense of duty, he immediately rejoins the pirates. He tells them of the deception that has been practiced upon them, and they seize and bind the major-general to a broken column.

But the police come to the rescue and charge the pirates to yield, "in Queen Victoria's name." This they do. Ruth explains, however, that these men who appear to be lawless pirates are really all "noblemen who have gone wrong," and they are pardoned and permitted to marry the major-general's daughters.

This operetta promises to be a real treat for the music-lovers of this vicinity. Tickets are being sold by the members of the Ouachita Parish High School Choir and students in the department of speech and will be sold at the door.

National Officer Meets With Local Y. W. C. A.

Miss Marie Russ, secretary of administrative affairs from the community divisions of Y. W. C. A.'s of the national board staff, was in Monroe last week discussing with the local leaders, the business girls' groups, the Girl Reserves, and the people of the community who are interested, the Young Women's Christian Association in this community and the importance of the Y. W. C. A. as an international organization. She spoke of the importance of the organization of the Y. W. C. A. in the community and the need for a membership group, individual leaders who will serve on the various communitees or persons with some particular skill or ability to serve as a resource person. Miss Russ explained that the Young Women's Christian Association plans its programs around persons and their needs, including the wholeness of personality — physical, mental and emotional, and spiritual; it includes and is concerned with all women and girls; it has its life in the community; it may undertake individual or group activities under its own auspices or may cooperate with other community agencies in such activities and projects; it may try to educate public opinion and influence legislation.

On Monday Miss Russ met with the executive board and the public affairs committee of the local association. During this session she explained some of the administration problems and set-up, discussed the whole organizational structure of the Y. W. C. A. and explained some of the plans which the public affairs groups could make for the local situation. She discussed, on Tuesday, with the finance committee the importance of the financial planning and budget study which was necessary to insure the best use of funds and as a description of the activities and program which the association is carrying on. Wednesday the board of directors and interested persons learned of the importance of being an active, informed group for carrying out the responsibilities as leaders in the organization.

The program groups, the residence club, the student group (a newly organized group), the business and professional girls' groups and the Girl Reserves discussed with Miss Russ their groups, the purposes and activities of the program and projects, and the needs and interests of the girls.

Mary Katherine Wheelis, reporter for the Blue Triangle-Kunjoynus Club of Girl Reserves interviewed Miss Russ on Tuesday afternoon when she met with the Girl Reserves. Miss Russ is from the South and considers Louisiana as much her home as any place since her family home is near Shreveport. She has been connected with Y. W. C. A. work since 1918. She served on the national board from 1930 to 1933 as secretary for "Religion." From 1933 until 1942 she was connected with local associations as one of the secretaries or as the executive director. In 1942 Miss Russ again became a part of the national board staff and is now secretary of administrative affairs. Miss Russ represents the "Western" half of the Southern region of the Y. W. C. A. and travels in six states: Arkansas, Louisiana, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Texas.

Miss Airoldi Is Bride Of F. E. Walker

Reception Following Ceremony Takes Place On The Terrace Of Frances Hotel

A wedding of interest to friends throughout the state was celebrated at St. Matthew's Catholic Church Monday, April 22 at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon when Miss Lenora Elizabeth Airoldi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Airoldi, became the bride of Mr. Frederick Eustice Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Walker of Camden, Ark.

The impressive double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dennis Curren, assistant pastor, in the presence of a concourse of relatives and friends, several of whom were from out-of-town.

The main altar was developed in white and gold. It was overlaid with a gold cloth on which was placed a profusion of Easter and calla lilies. Interspersed at vantage points were candelabra in which white cathedral tapers burned to cast a soft glow over the effect. The sanctuary held tall white standards tied with tulle and overflowing with graceful arrangements of white gladioli, stock and fern. Along the communion rail were potted palms and lilies with seven-branched candelabra holding burning tapers placed at intervals. Easter lilies tied with tulle marked the pews reserved for relatives and intimate friends.

Mrs. Florence Ziegler Allbritton, organist, rendered a pre-nuptial concert. She also accompanied Mrs. Louise Mathis, cousin of the groom from Camden, Ark., who sang in beautiful voice Schubert's "Ave Maria," and Miss Gertrude Sandrock of the Northeast Junior College faculty sang Franck's "Panis Angelicus." During the plighting of vows the organist played Mendelssohn's "Confidence." Wagner's "Lohengrin," and Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream," were used for the processional and the recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a traditional wedding gown of white slipper satin. The close-fitting elongated bodice was fashioned with a yoke of chantilly lace and leg-o-mutton sleeves which ended in a lily point over the wrist. The bodice was buttoned down the back with small white satin buttons, and the full skirt ended in a court train. Her long veil of illusion, which fell in graceful folds, was held becomingly to her head by a coronet of seed pearls and rhinestones. A soft veil covered her face and she wore a string of pearls. She carried out the tradition of "something old, something new." Her bouquet was of calla lilies with streamers of stephanotis.

The bride's attendants were her cousin, Mrs. Tom Mulhearn, matron of honor; Miss Betty Ruth Walker, the groom's sister from Camden, maid of honor; Misses Dorothy Horton, Octave Register, Lenora Zagone, the bride's cousin from Shreveport, Evelyn Cason, bridesmaids; Marietta Spatafora, and Lynn Airoldi, junior bridesmaids; Gail Airoldi, flower girl.

They wore white gowns. The bodices were closely-fitted lace with sweetheart necklines and long sleeves gathered full at the top. They were joined to diaphanous hooped skirts of net. All wore halos of white tulle and carried Colonial bouquets. The matron of honor's flowers were Wedgewood iris tied with corn colored satin ribbon and the maid of honor carried yellow iris with blue ribbon. The bridesmaids and junior bridesmaids used bouquets of mixed blossoms caught with pink and white ribbons.

The flower girl scattered rose petals from a basket tied with ribbons, and the ring bearer, Pete Airoldi, carried the rings in an Easter lily tied with tulle.

Mr. Joe Crane of Arkadelphia, Ark., served the groom as his best man, and the ushers were: Lt. Col. A. J. Airoldi, brother of the bride; Mr. Fred Hudson, Mr. J. C. Wallace, Mr. John Deveraux and Mr. Andrew Achary, of New Orleans, cousin of the bride.

The reception immediately following the ceremony was held on the terrace of the Frances Hotel, where white gladioli, stock, lilies and fern were used in artistic arrangements to create a lovely background. Receiving the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Airoldi, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Walker and the bridal party. The bride's mother wore a dusty rose crepe model and a large black hat with a note of rose in the crown. The groom's mother was in blue crepe with sequin trim, with which she used long white gloves and a small black hat trimmed in blue daisies. Both wore pearls and orchid corsages.

The bride's table was overlaid with a handsome cutwork linen banquet cloth and centered with a tiered wedding cake surmounted by bride and groom figurines. An attractive arrangement of white gladioli and Wedgewood iris enhanced the effectiveness of the scene. Crystal holders containing white lighted tapers were used at either end of the table and crystal trays holding individual wedding cakes, mints and other confections, florally embossed, were passed among the guests by Mrs. Thomas Sands, who wore a frock of black lace bodice joined to a billowy pink net skirt.

From large crystal bowls punch was served by Mrs. Batten and Mrs. J. M. Wyatt. Mrs. Batten's gown was a pink eyelet embroidered off-the-shoulder basque which was caught to a black taffeta skirt. Mrs. Wyatt wore a white chiffon fashioned with a bodice with short puffed sleeves and a full skirt which hung in graceful folds. All wore corsages of pink gladioli.

The bride, a gracious member of Monroe's younger set, is a graduate of Neville High School and Northeast Junior College. She held membership in Sigma Sigma, national high school honor society, the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Y. W. C. A. At the local college she participated in a number of extracurricular activities. Soon ofter graduating, she accepted the position as an assistant in the business office of Northeast Junior College where she remained until a short time prior to her marriage.

Mr. Walker graduated from the Camden High School and attended Henderson State Teachers College, Arkadelphia, Ark., until he resigned to enter military service where he held the commission of a lieutenant in the army air corps. He is a member of Gamma Sigma fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker are honeymooning in Hot Springs, Ark., where they are guests at the Arlington Hotel. The couple will reside in Arkadelphia, where the groom will continue his studies at Henderson State Teachers College.

The bride traveled in a gray dressmaker suit with a gray print blouse. She wore a small off-the-face hat in matching tones and used black accessories and a corsage of purple-gilted white orchids.

MARRIED IN NORFOLK

Mrs. Charles D. Arnold, the former Miss Alyce Maud Bernelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emile P. Bernelle, of this city, whose marriage took place recently in Norfolk, Va.

Miss Tower Is The Bride Of J. Glen Barrett

Of interest to many friends is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Grace Tower and J. Glen Barrett, April 21. The ceremony took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Grimes and Mrs. W. A. Kellar with J. P. Staggs, pastor of the Church of Christ, officiating in the presence of a few friends and members of the family.

The vows were spoken in the living room before an improvised altar banked with white flowers.

The bride's attendant, Mrs. J. M. Graves, wore a melon colored model with black accessories. Mr. J. M. Graves served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. R. P. Grimes, wore an azure blue model with black accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

The bride is a graduate of the Tallulah High School and is employed at the Tallulah State Bank & Trust Co. The bridegroom is now stationed in Pensacola, Fla. He has served four years in the Marine branch of the service, having spent three years in the Pacific area and will receive his discharge in May.

After May 1, Mr. and Mrs. Barrett will spend a two weeks' honeymoon in Pensacola and will return to Tallulah, where they will make their home.

The public is cordially invited to attend an exhibit of paintings from the brush of Virginia Palmer De Friend, of Houston, Tex., at the Recreation Center next Monday through Wednesday between the hours of 3 and 6 in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening.

Miss De Friend will receive at this time and will give any information necessary in regard to her pictures. The exhibit will consist of flowers and scenes painted around Galveston and San Antonio, Tex. One of the paintings especially praiseworthy is "Salt Cedars." It was shown at the Museum of Art in Houston.

Mrs. De Friend has traveled widely in this country and in Scotland. Her work is well known in Houston.

Some of her flower paintings, for which she is best known, will be on exhibit at the annual Houston Flower Show next week.

Mrs. De Friend is a member of the Associated Artists in Houston and the Southern States Art League.

She and her two sons are visiting her sister, Mrs. R. D. McMahan at 3502 Concordia Street, this city.

Ceremony Unites Maurine Price And Edgar Hoskins

Miss Frances Maurine Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Price, of Haynesville, and Edgar Lyal Hoskins, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hoskins, of Monroe, were united in marriage Saturday evening, March 9, at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church at Haynesville with Rev. E. A. Autrey, pastor of the West Monroe Baptist Church, officiating at the double-ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends.

The altar was decorated with spring flowers and flanked by candelabra burning white tapers. Prior to the ceremony Miss Nancy Blackwell, cousin of the bride, and Miss Rosemary McWilliams, wearing blue and green taffeta dresses, lit the candles while Mrs. A. H. Southern softly played "Traumeri." B. M. Olive sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." During the ceremony, Mrs. Southern played "Liebestraum" and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a light blue wool jersey dress and a black straw hat trimmed with pink feathers. She carried a white Bible surmounted with a bouquet of gardenias. For "something new" she wore a diamond watch, a gift of the groom.

Miss Marjorie Meeks, maid of honor and only attendant, wore a navy blue crepe dress and matching hat. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

O. L. Hoskins, of Monroe, served his brother as best man.

Mrs. Price, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Hoskins, mother of the groom, wore black models with corsages of white split carnations.

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Hoskins was honored with a number of pre-nuptial parties in Haynesville and Monroe. The couple will be at home in West Monroe.

CLEVER PROGRAM HONORS THE NEW PRESIDENT OF BUSINESS, PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

Miss Maible Hood's love of hats prompted members of the Business and Professional Women's Club to use miniature hats as favors when they entertained in her honor in the home of Mrs. P. A. Poag. Miss Hood was recently elected president of the club and the party was arranged in celebration.

The event was unusually gay and festive with Miss Hood wearing a fuchsia colored metallic cloth blouse and a purple skirt, with corsage of roses, the central figure in this group of congenials.

Beautiful flowers were everywhere in evidence in the reception suite where the clever program was presented by Mrs. Gladys Miles, the retiring president.

The program was highlighted by a radio quiz with the 64-dollar question answered by Miss Bessie McDonald who correctly guessed the name of Maible Hood when Mrs. Poag, pianist, played "Deep Purple" and "Easter Bonnet." Purple, by the way is Miss Hood's favorite color. The jack pot question, a clever one was biographical sketch of a famous personality as follows:

"She was born on the day of her birth and has lived in this world ever since. She started life in a very humble way, as a barefoot girl, but it was not long before she was clad in bootees and a sarong. It is rumored the bootees and sarong were Chartreuse, but this rumor has been denied and we are inclined to think this lovely ensemble was a white and pink creation, at an early age she revealed evidence of preferring colors and her dolls were the best dressed dolls in the neighborhood.

It was quite natural, with this love of the beautiful so pronounced in our heroine's character, that she should choose as her profession the dispensing of glamour. She has made an outstanding susccess in her chosen field. She is an active club member, has served the B. & P. W. Club well, is loved by many for her sense of loyalty to her friends—in fact, this loyalty is an obession with her.

The answer of course was Maible Hood.

The presentation of a beautiful new 1946 radio to Miss Hood climaxed the evening's pleasures. Members at this time expressed their sincere delight in having Miss Hood for their new president but genuine regret was portrayed over the loss of a wonderful program chairman. During Miss Hood's tenure of office as program chairman the club members were entertained with clever affairs abounding in originality and ingenuity. Considerable ingenuity was employed by Miss Hood in the theme of each entertainment, in the selection of guest speakers, the favors which were always a distinct feature and in the arrangement of the dinner tables whenever a dinner party was in progress.

The guests were invited to the dining room for the serving of a salad course. Frozen fruit frappe was served from a crystal bowl placed at one end of the table. The decor, a wide brimmed hat trimmed with purple iris and pink roses, was the essence of club members.

During the refreshment hour a large silver tray laden with purple hat boxes containing miniature hats designed by the program committee, was passed among the guests. The one designed for Miss Hood was a cunning thing of purple tulle, flowers and feathers.

Mrs. Poag was assisted by the cohostesses, Mrs. Gladys Miles, Mrs. Inas Gwin, Miss Hazel Cox and Miss Alma Terry.

This event marked the close of one of the most successful years that the club has enjoyed. Numbering almost one hundred active members, the accomplishments of the past two years under the administration of Mrs. Gladys Miles have been most gratifying. Under the leadership of Miss Hood, the club is assured of continued success.

Those enjoying this delightful occasion in Mr. and Mrs. Poag's hospitable home were:

Miss Ann Adams, Mrs. Margaret Allbritton, Mrs. Effie Allen, Mrs. Dora Anish, Mrs. Evelyn Atkinson, Miss Alice Baur, Mrs. Eva Beckett, Mrs. Jack Blanks, Mrs. Alma Bushnell, Mrs. Earl Coates, Mrs. Margaret Coeman, Mrs. Blanche Colvin, Mrs. Grace Colvin, Miss Hazel Cox, Mrs. Clara Dennis, Mrs. Johnnie Elbert, Mrs. Ernestine Ensminger, Miss Ouida Etie, Mrs. Lena Griffis, Mrs. Inas Gwin, Mrs. Clara Harkness, Mrs. Faye Heard, Miss Eloise Helm, Miss Harriett Hirsch, Miss Maible Hood, Miss Mary Humble, Miss Lucille Jones, Mrs. Addie Lou Juneman, Mrs. Mary Lee Kedwell, Mrs. Emma Keen, Mrs. Mamie Kersh, Mrs. Agnes Krogmire, Mrs. Edna Manley, Mrs. Lucille Mathis, Mrs. Gladys Miles, Mrs. Mae Modes, Miss Mamie Ober, Mrs. Grace O'Dell, Miss Mary O'Kelly, Mrs. Ruby Poimboeuf, Mrs. Ruth Hightower, Mrs. Maude Poag, Mrs. Myrtle Porter, Miss Florence Powers, Mrs. Evelyn Reams, Miss Bernice Reese, Miss Margaret Reese, Mrs. Irene Reid, Mrs. Clara Seamon, Mrs. Ethel Sibbold, Mrs. Laura Slator, Mrs. Ivy Smith, Mrs. W. CONGENIALS ENJOY CONVERSATION OVER THE COFFEE CUPS

It was an evening of informality when Northeast Junior College played host to friends of the institution in this area of the state at a reception recently given in the spacious library on the campus. A group enjoying chatting over coffee cups includes, left to right: Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Troy, Mr. G. S. Manning, Mrs. W. D. H. Rodriguez, Miss Bernice Wright and Miss Mary Buckner.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Estelle Sanders will sing the recitative passages in the Easter cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," to be repeated by request Sunday night at the First Methodist Church. It was an overflow audience that attended the Methodist Church last Sunday night and for the benefit of those who couldn't gain admittance the cantata will be given again tonight. Miss Polly Cole will substitute for one of the sopranos but aside from that the cantata will be presented exactly as it was on Easter Sunday with overwhelming success.

Fred L. Strickland, student at L. S. U. spent last week with his parents in West Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sherrouse, Jr., are now at home to their friends in their furnished apartment at Villreid on North Fifth Street.

Lloyd Walters, one of Monroe's outstanding musicians was the guest soloist at the First Baptist Church in New Orleans on Easter Sunday. The choir presented Stainer's "The Crucifixion," featuring Mr. Walters, baritone. Mr. and Mrs. Walters were guests over the week-end of Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Alexander. Rev. Alexander is pastor of the First Baptist Church of New Orleans and professer of music in the Bible Institute.

Mary Jane Dickard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Dickard, a favorite in younger social circles in this city, has a wide circle of friends who will read with interest the following article appearing in the Jax Air News, published at the United States naval air station and naval air technical training center, Jacksonville, Fla., where she is now stationed:

"No doubt you have noticed the posters and layouts at the dances and other NATTC activities and it would be interesting to know that Mary Jane Dickard, Sp(X) 2/c, Training Department, Visual Aids, really does her part in drawing and painting them.

"Dickie is from Monroe, La., and was graduated from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute with a B. A. degree. Soon after her college life ended she decided to join the WAVEs. With boot camp at Hunter, her next station was Jacksonville.

"Upon her arrival here she was sent to Main Side to work for Welfare and Recreation, later NATTC Welfare and now the Training Department, Visual Aids. Dickie plans, draws and paints the posters for instructional use in the classrooms at NATTC. She also does all the brush lettering.

"Her newest job is that of an instructor in the Craft Shop where she teaches leather craft and weaving. But when the Craft Shop gets going, she will teach several others things.

"In her off moments, while she isn't painting or drawing, she is listening to her collection of classical records. Her records from the album of "Swan Song," or Tschaikowsky, her favorite composer, can be heard almost any time in the WAVE's lounge. Sports also are part of Dickie's "extra curricular activities," and she can spin a tennis ball over the net or wham a golf ball for yards. Her greatest ambition is to visit Egypt and go through all the Egyptian pyramids.

"Dickie has signed over till September and plans to enter art school in New York at that time."

Friends are welcoming Lieutenant William B. Junod, U. S. N. R., retired from active service on April 24 who has returned home after three years' service with the navy.

Lieutenant Junod is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Junod, 2305 Jasmine Street, and is a Dartmouth College graduate, class of 1941. He enlisted in the fall of 1942 in the V-7, U. S. N. R. class, while a student at the engineering college of the University of Oklahoma. Following his enlistment, he reported in February, 1943, to the Midshipman School, U. S. S. Prairie State, Hudson River, was commissioned an ensign in the U. S. N. R. June 16, 1943, and reported shortly thereafter for active service aboard the U. S. S. Palmer, which was then one of the units of the Atlantic fleet.

Lieutenant Junod served as communications officer aboard the Palmer following her transfer to the Pacific fleet in January, 1944, and he was one of the survivors of the ship when it was sunk on January 7, 1945, in the action in Lingayen Gulf, off Luzon, when General MacArthur's armed forces were landed for the Philippine campaign.

Subsequently, Lieutenant Junod was made staff communications officer of a squadron of minesweepers which returned to the far Pacific after V-J day. Since that time he served as operations and minesweeping officer for two task groups conducting minesweeping operations in Japanese waters.

Lieutenant Junod expects to resume his duties next term in the petroleum engineering college of the University of Oklahoma.

Stevenson-Tyner Nuptials Take Place In Tallulah

Miss Mildred L. Stevenson of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mr. Bruce M. Tyner, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Tyner, of Tallulah, were married in a simple and beautiful ceremony at the Methodist Church in Tallulah, Sunday afternoon, April 21. The Rev. John F. Kilpatrick performed the ceremony in a setting of tall white floor baskets filled with clusters of Easter lilies and white candles in antique candelabras. Mrs. J. C. Sherwin played "I Love You Truly" and the traditional wedding marches.

Mrs. T. A. Smith, Jr., the matron of honor, wore an aqua suit with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Patsy Smith, the junior bridesmaid, wore pale yellow and carried a nosegay of sweetpeas. Little T. A. Smith III, who wore a white suit, lighted the candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her nephew, Donald Hansen, of Milwaukee, wore a gold suit with pale green and yellow accessories. Her flowers were talisman roses, and she wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. John Tyner served his brother as best man.

After the ceremony members of the wedding party were entertained with a supper at the home of the bridegroom's parents, after which Mr. and Mrs. Tyner left for a trip to New Orleans and the Gulf Coast.

The bride is a graduate of Milwaukee State Teachers' College and received her degree in library science at Marquette University. Mr. Tyner is a graduate of Tallulah High School and attended Minnesota University, Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, and Louisiana State University. He was recently discharged from the armed forces and will continue his education at L. S. U., where he is specializing in agriculture. His bride has a position in the library school at L. S. U.

Mrs. G. L. Morgan Hostess To The Reader's Clique

Mrs. G. L. Morgan extended gracious hospitality in her home on Forsythe Avenue to members of The Readers' Clique at their regular meeting.

During the business session, Mrs. Alvin Furlow, president, announced that the Easter egg sale was a complete success financially and Mrs. Furlow takes this means to thank the public for their interest and support of this project, in which all members of The Readers' Clique took an active interest. Mrs. Walter Ryland was chairman of this project.

Members voted to make a donation to the cancer control drive and the Crippled Children's Association at this time.

Mrs. Morgan introduced the guest speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. A. S. Gunter, whose subject was "Cancer, Its Symptoms, and How It Progresses." Mrs. Gunter is one of many who is doing her part to speed cancer control by informing the public of its symptoms, its rapid spread through the body and its high toll of humanity every year. Mrs. Gunter urged her audience to take note of the symptoms of cancer, among which are enlarged moles and warts, ordinary cuts and sores that do not heal within ten days, and hard lumps that form under the skin on various parts of the body. These are just a few of the known symptoms, and all are advised to see their physician at once should any of these symptoms be noticed. Mrs. Gunter's talk was of immense interest to all and members felt fortunate in having her attend their meeting.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following members and guests: Mrs. Burl Hollis, Mrs. Alvin Furlow, Mrs. Fred Parrish, Mrs. Edwin Crowley, Mrs. Joe Bennett, Mrs. Stanley Archibald, Mrs. Ray Updegraff, Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. James Harbuck, Mrs. Mike John, Jr., Mrs. Raymond John, Mrs. Walter Ryland, Jr., Mrs. James Harris, Mrs. Sidney Gill, Mrs. Louis Peters, Mrs. Joe Coates and Mrs. A. S. Gunter.

Mrs. Guy DuPriest Talks On Subject Of Chinese People

Mrs. Guy DuPriest talked in interesting manner on the subject of "China" when she appeared on the April program of the Monroe Literary Club. She talked in particular about a prominent Chinese, Dr. Lin Yutang, who was born in China and was educated in mission schools. He was reared a Christian and now describes himself as a pagan. Continuing, Mrs. DuPriest said:

"Dr. Lin Yutang came to America and took his master degree at Harvard and later his degree as Ph. D. at Leipzig. He is author of several textbooks in English which are widely used in Chinese schools and colleges, and is now editor or on the editorial staff of five journals, three of which are printed in Chinese and two in English.

"The Chinese word for character brings to us the vision of a mature man of mellow temperament retaining a good mind under all circumstances, with a complete understanding not only of himself but of his fellowmen. If we review the Chinese race and try to picture their characteristics we shall find the following trates: Sanity, simplicity, love of nature, patience, indifference, industry, love of family life, contentment and humor.

"The Chinese people have put up with more tyranny, anarchy and misrule than any western people will ever put up with, and seemed to have regarded them as part of the law of nature. In certain parts of Szechuere the people have been taxed for thirty years in advance without showing more energetic protest than half-audible curses in the privacy of the household. Christian patience would seem like petulance compared with Chinese patience.

"The Chinese people are perhaps more contented than western people, class for class, when living under the same condition. The spirit of cheerfulness and contentment is found in both the literate and the illiterate classes, for such is the penetration of Chinese racial tradition. It may be seen in the gay, babbling rickshaw boy of Peking, forever laughing and joking all the way and ready to laugh at fellow man's discomforts, or it may be coolies who carry you up to the top of Kuling, or it may be seen in the boat-trackers who pull your boat up the Szechuen rapids and who earn for their living a bare pittance beyond two simple meals a day.

"It seems clear that actually there are only two social classes in China, the yamen class who enjoys rights without consular jurisdiction long before the Europeans came to China and the non-yamen class who pay the taxes and obey the law. There are no established social classes in China, but only different families which go up and down according to the vicissitudes of fortune. The Chinese divide society into four classes in the following order of importance: Scholars, farmers, artisans and the merchant."

DR. ANDREW TRICHE

Dr. Andrew Triche, state director of trade and industrial education, also executive secretary American Society Training Directors, will speak to members of the Don Juan Filhoil Chapter of National Secretaries' Association Monday, April 29, at 6:30 p.m., at their regular dinner meeting, at the Virginia Hotel. Dr. Triche will speak on the "Personality of a Secretary." Miss Billye Durbin and Miss Jane Wallace will present a program of music.

Miss Bernelle Is The Bride Of Captain C. Arnold

The marriage of Miss Alyce Maud Bernelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emile P. Bernelle, of Monroe, La., to Captain George Moore Arnold, AAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dorroh Arnold, of Norfolk, took place March 25 in the Larchmont Methodist Church, Norfolk, Va.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Walter M. Lockett, Jr., pastor of the church, in the presence of the immediate family and a few close friends. Mrs. John S. Perkins, of Wichita, Kan., sister of the bridegroom, played the wedding music.

The bride wore a beige lightweight wool suit with navy blue accessories and carried a white Testament topped with an orchid and showered with white sweet peas.

Immediately following the ceremony Captain and Mrs. Arnold left for a northern wedding trip and upon their return they will reside temporarily at the home of the bridegroom's parents, 6032 Westwood Terrace, Norfolk, Va.

Captain Arnold has recently returned from three years duty overseas.

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. William Harold Childress of New Orleans of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Billie Childress, to Mr. Rabun Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Smith, of Farmerville, La.

A former student of the McMain School in New Orleans, the bride-elect was graduated from Ursuline Academy and is now a student in the Sophie-Newcomb College in New Orleans.

Mr. Smith attended Louisiana Tech at Ruston and Southwestern at Lafayette, where he received his predental training and is now a student in the Loyola University School of Dentistry in New Orleans, where he is scheduled to graduate in 1947. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma and Delta Sigma Delta fraternities and is vice president of the Junior American Dental Association of that university. He is in the United States Naval Reserve and has recently been placed on inactive duty.

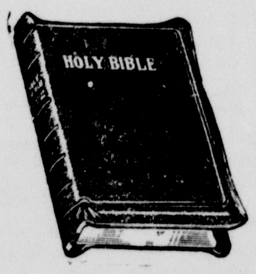
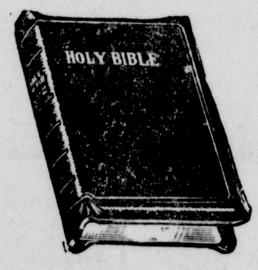
A Hearty Welcome Awaits All!

A Hearty Welcome Awaits All!

We cordially invite you to attend our revival beginning May 5th, with Evangelist Fred Kenzie and party. Reverend Kenzie is an outstanding evangelist. You will be blessed by his messages. The party is very talented in music and singing. Come, see and hear their many instruments. Surely this revival will bless all who attend. Come!





Rev. Caughron has ministered the word of God to this congregation for the past two and one-half years. The church has been blessed by a steady growth both spiritually and financially. We hold high regards for his faithful service.

It pleases God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe. Come hear the gospel preached in its fullness. Salvation is real to all that believe.

Mrs. Caughron does a commendable work among the ladies and young people of the church. The congregation is also blessed by her heart-stirring messages.

Come and Worship With Us!

To all who mourn and need comfort—To all who are lonely and in need of companionship—To all who pray and are in need of prayer—To all who love to sing God's praises—To all who live and sin and die and need a Savior—To all, this Church opens wide her doors and in the name of Jesus.

Revival Begins Sunday, May 5th

Miss Renaud Will Wed D. G. Kiper

Announcement Made By Bride-Elect's Parents Is Of Interest To Friends

Weddings and engagements are again to the fore and scarcely a day passes without formal announcements being made. Today interest is centered in the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Joseph Renaud of this city of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Martha Williams, to Mr. Donald Gill Kiper, son of Mrs. Ernest Richard Kiper, and the late Mr. E. R. Kiper, of Wisner, La. The wedding will be a prominent event of May 26 at the First Methodist Church.

Miss Renaud, charming member of the younger set, is a graduate of the Ouachita Parish High School, Northeast Junior College and Louisiana Tech. She is a member of Delta Beta Sigma and Kappa Delta sororities. Since graduation Miss Renaud has been engaged in secretarial work with the United Gas Pipeline Company in this city.

Mr. Kiper is a graduate of the Gilbert High school and Northeast Junior College. He recently returned from overseas where he was with the armed forces.

Lealis Hale, of Hale and McNeil, has been named delegate to the convention of the National Electronic Distributors Association by the Louisiana-Mississippi chapter of which he is a member. The convention will be held in the Stevens Hotel, Chicago, May 12-18.

Mr. Hale, accompanied by Mrs. Hale, will leave Thursday morning and will drive to Louisville, Ky., to make a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dawkins, Jr., and also will attend the Kentucky Derby Saturday afternoon.

From Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Hale will drive to Cleveland, O., where they are to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hale before gonig on to Chicago.

While Mr. Hale is attending the convention, Mrs. Hale will visit her sister, Mrs. Walter F. Shattuck, Jr., in Lake Forest, Ill.

On their way back they will visit Mr. Hale's sister, Mrs. Harriet Menard in Malden, Mo.

Purely Personal

Friends are constantly dropping in at the R. H. Oliver home on Island Drive to welcome their two sons, Lt. Commander McVea Oliver and Lt. Robert B. Oliver. Lt. Commander Oliver was with the U. S. navy for four years and served overseas for 18 months. Lt. Oliver, just recently returned home from the Pacific area where he was stationed for two years.

The neighbors residing on Island Drive expressed their delight in having these two popular young men in their midst again by getting together Easter Sunday for a barbecue supper on the bayou bank. It was a veritable feast with each family making contribution toward the supper served at long tables near the barbecue pit.

Mrs. Herschel Gentry returned home recently from a visit in the home of Dorothy Dix in New Orleans and spoke in glowing terms of the wonderful hospitality extended. Mrs. Gentry, speaking of Dorothy Dix, said:

"After visiting with Dorothy Dix I found myself wanting to write my impression of this vivacious little lady, who so wisely advises the love-lorn as well as the perplexed housewife.

"With her pen and unusual wisdom and uncanny insight into human nature, Miss Dix helps settle countless problems that baffle humanity. Her influence is far-reaching and her name has become a common household word. Oddly enough, her column is read by people of all walks of life. Her advice can be adapted by the debutant as much as the kitchen maid; the millionaire playboy as much as the plodding husband. So unbiased are her opinions each reader feels that they can accept them for what they are worth.

"Dorothy Dix has the quiet, sincere manner that usually marks the people who have tasted fame and success. Never does she refer to the place she holds in the heart of everyone who reads her articles. Meeting her clear, frank look one seems to have known her before. She might remind you of a friend, a neighbor, or your very own mother. In her witty conversation, it is easy to detect her keen sense of humor. Even at her advanced age the merry twinkle still dwells in her dark eyes.

"She lives in a two-story stone home on the edge of a park. The furnishings are tasty but not elaborate. I noticed a splash of color everywhere and knew she loved bright things.

"There were many things I would liked to have asked Miss Dix about her career, but having called as a friend and not as an interviewer I restrained my curosity. I did ask her however about her early writings. She told me she was a reporter on the New Orleans Picayune. She covered many famous murder trials. She went to New York in 1901 to work on the New York Journal. She feels that Arthur Brisbane's advice to 'write simply,' and Publisher William Randolph Hurst's encouragement helped mould her career.

"Miss Dix laughingly remarked, 'People seem to think I hold a magic key to telling them how to become a reporter.'

"I asked, 'Do you?'

"She smiled and shook her head. 'No. Only hard work.'

"In a moment I inquired, 'How do you decide what to base your articles on?'

"'I select the most timely letter and study it then write my article around that letter.'

Realizing the enormous amount of mail Miss Dix receives daily, I knew she must know what is troubling our young people of today, so I asked, 'What seems to be disturbing the girls most now that the war is over?'

"Quickly she returned, 'It is the returned soldier-sweetheart. He, in many cases, has fallen out of love and wishes to be released from his engagement. The girls seem to think he should marry them after they've waited for his return.'

"'What is your answer?' I asked Miss Dix.

"She became thoughtful. 'It's strange that a girl would wish to hold a man to his engagement. How can they want to force him into a marriage?'

"The time flew while I sat in the presence of this sagacious little lady. I left feeling that there were two words that could best describe Dorothy Dix: gracious simplicity."

Miss Mary Elizabeth Hammons arrived via air line last week from Dallas, Tex., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hammons, of Sterlington. Miss Hammons is an outstanding student at Baylor University, Waco, Tex., where she is majoring in piano and speech.

Tallulah

Miss Helen Leoty, a bride-elect was the honoree at a delightful bridge luncheon given by Mrs. William Wallace Ziegler on Saturday afternoon. The high score prize was won by Miss Eleanor Gandy and Miss Leoty was presented with a lovely gift.

The guests included Miss Leoty, Miss Cundy, Mrs. Stuart Moberly, Mrs. Andrew Sevier, Jr., Mrs. Rufus Yerger, Mrs. W. E. Regenold, Mrs. Francis Jordan, Mrs. Barton Sevier, Miss Beta Sevier, Mrs. E. E. Warrick Mrs. E. C. Leoty, Mrs. Meadows, Miss Peggy Claughton, Mrs. Ralph Loe, and Miss Anne Bowie.

Miss Frances Alexander, of Memphis, spent the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Alexander.

Mrs. Jeanette Bostick and her mother, Mrs. Jessie M. Riser, former residents of Tallulah, attended the sunrise Easter service at the Methodist Church on Sunday morning. They motored from Delhi where they were visiting relatives.

A meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was held at Mansford plantation with Mrs. G. T. Shepard as hostess. Mrs. W. G. Goza gave the devotional and a program on Peace Foundations in Latin American was given by Mrs. W. B. Williams and Mrs. A. D. Kimbrough.

SHERROUSE P.-T. A. MEN TO BANQUET

The Sherrouse School P.-T. A. study group will meet in the Northeast Junior College cafeteria Tuesday, April 30, at 7 p.m.

All members and all men who are interested in improvements for the Junior College section of Monroe are urged to attend, stated T. H. Woods, chairman.

FACULTY MEMBERS AND THEIR WIVES RECEIVE GUESTS

Receiving guests throughout this section of the state when the administration and faculty of Northeast Junior College entertained recently at a reception given in the library on the campus are, left to right: Dr. Fred C. Frey, dean of Louisiana State University; Dr. J. W. Brouillette, director of L. S. U.'s general extension division; Dr. Stephen A. Caldwell, supervisor and coordinator of the university's junior colleges and dean of the junior division; Mrs. Rodney Cline; Dr. Cline, dean of Northeast Junior College; Mrs. Thomas W. Leigh, and Mr. Leigh, member of the L. S. U. board of supervisors.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER AND BARBECUE SUPPER IN HONOR OF MISS BEATRICE SHAMBLIN

Mrs. Stanley Reid's versatility was tested last Wednesday night when she planned a barbecue in the patio of her home in honor of Miss Beatrice Shamblin, bride-elect. When the supper hour arrived the heavens opened up, necessitating a complete change of plans. Fortunately the steaks had already been barbecued and other viands were quickly transferred indoors. There was considerable disappointment manifested as Mrs. Reid's patio is unusually beautiful at this time with crimson rambler roses in full bloom completely covering the trellises in the background, creating an idyllic setting for an alfresco supper party.

Following the serving of the delicious steaks, salads and numerous other dishes, Miss Shamblin was presented with beautiful gifts of a miscellaneous nature. She was a lovely figure on this occasion in a pink linen model with corsage of pink roses. Among the guests were Miss Shamblin's mother, Mrs. S. Shamblin, and her prospective mother-in-law, Mrs. G. E. Addison.

Other guests were limited to the feminine employes of Monroe News-Star-World Publishing Corporation, where Miss Shamblin is in charge of the classified advertising department.

The guests, in addition to the hostess, Mrs. Reid, were:

Ferol Wilbanks, Madeline Cannon, Dorothy Smith, Mamie Raiford, Mildred Smith, Sybil Knighton, Janet Evans, Grace Truett, Mamie McNeil, Sue Sharman, Dorothy Elmendorff, Bess Sharp, Gene Bell, Ann Kovaleski, Betty Simmons, Mrs. William Zinsmeister, Ladora Shamblin, Betty Reid, Mrs. G. E. Addison, Fanny Humphries, Evelyn Bledsoe, Mrs. W. W. Thompson, Linda Carol Bledsoe and Eve Bradford.

Collinston

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the church Tuesday afternoon for its regular program meeting. The leader, Mrs. A. J. Tarver, opened the program with the reading of a poem, "Fruit of the Spirit." Rev. O. H. Jones gave the meditation on that theme. Quoting in part, he said, "The Fruit of the Spirit is made up of nine graces—love, joy and peace being the first or inward state; patience, gentleness and goodness being the second state of attitude toward others; while the third state, or characteristic toward God, comprise faith, temperance, and meekness. . . . The Christian should ask himself if he has achieved these graces. They cannot be produced in a moment. There must be resolve and experimentation, and after defeat, for one is not always going to succeed, study our failures. Ask ourselves 'Why did I fail?' Then correct and try again."

The local telephone exchange was recently purchased by B. W. Hopgood from Mr. and Mrs. Tom Linzay. Mrs. Linzay will continue to operate the switchboard until Mr. Hopgood installs the dial ssystem, which he expects to do in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook L. Deal and daughters, Brenda Sue and Anna Marie, of St. Louis, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deal, of Buffalo, N. Y., have visited here with their mother, Mrs. Fannie Deal, and their sister, Mrs. Frances Westfall, and little daughter, Jacqueline Roberts.

Elton Tilbury has been separated from the navy and is now at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Tilbury. He served with the Pacific fleet during the past year.

Mrs. Louise Howell Jeter is a patient at Vaughan-Wright-Bendel Clinic.

Mrs. J. T. Howell spent several days recently in Monroe visiting at the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Jeter. While there she also visited with her daughter, Mrs. Joe Ford, and family and with her sister, Mrs. Byron Vaughan.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Caldwell have as their house guests her niece, Mrs. Jean McGlothlin, and little daughter, Anita, of Grand Cane.

Miss Dorothy Anne Norsworthy, Webb Mason, and Rayford Harkness, students at L. S. U., spent the Easter holidays here with home folk.

Mrs. W. B. Reily, after spending the past four months at her home in New Orleans, has returned here to her home at "Kalorama." She was accompanied on the return trip by her son, Boatner Reily, and her companion, Miss Mary McMillin.

Mr. and Mrs. Torris Eldridge have as their house guests this week her mother, Mrs. B. F. Hornsby, of St. Joseph, their children, Mrs. Roy V. Norman, of Oak Ridge, and Mr. and Mrs. Torris Eldridge, Jr., and daughter, Janice Elizabeth, of Dermott, Ark.

Little Miss Frances Rae Hodge, of Monroe, visited recently in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Harper.

TEACHERS WILL ATTEND RALLY

The Ouachita Parish Teachers Association will hold a meeting in the Ouachita Parish High School Auditorium on Friday evening, May 3, at 7:30 o'clock, to listen to an address by H. J. Bergeron, president of the Louisiana Teachers Association. Mr. Bergeron's subject will be "Legislation for Louisiana Teachers." Clifford Woodward, of Jonesboro, member of the council of the Fifth District Teachers Organization, will also be on the program.

State Senator John McCormick and Representatives C. C. Bell and D. Ross Banister will also attend and assist in every way possible in answering the questions propounded by the teachers.

Everyone interested in the welfare and progress of the teachers is invited to attend, and all the teachers of the Fifth District are invited and urged to attend, as many questions of vital interest to every teacher will be discussed.

GRAYSON HIGH TO BANQUET ALUMNI

The annual Grayson High School alumni meeting will be resumed for the first time since 1941, this year.

All graduates, former teachers and students are cordially invited. The date set is always the Saturday night immediately preceding Mother's day.

The meeting will be held in the high school auditorium, May 11, at 7:00 p.m.

MISS DODGEN BECOMES THE BRIDE OF HOWARD LANCE IN A DOUBLE-RING CEREMONY

A wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends took place at the First Methodist Church this city, April 14, when Miss Mildred Louise Dodgen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude W. Dodgen, became the bride of Mr. Howard Wilson Lance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer W. Lance, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The ceremony, performed by Dr. A. M. Serex, took place at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of white flowers with myriads of tapers burning in their midst. The tapers were lighted by Claude Dodgen, of this city and Colbert Stott, of Camden, Ark.

Mrs. John Sholars, organist, rendered a pre-nuptial concert and accompanied the soloist, Edward Caldwell who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride's attendants, Miss Alicegene Walker, of Alexandria, the maid of honor; Mrs. Jean Stott, of Camden, the matron of honor; Miss Carolyn Jordon and Miss Helen Bartlett, bridesmaids, of Alexandria, wore diaphanous models of alternating pink and blue net with satin basques and carried Colonial bouquets of pink and blue snapdragon.

The groomsmen were Claude Dodgen, Colbert Stott and Harold Armand. Mr. Irwin Lance, the bridegroom's brother, served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white satin wedding gown with tight-fitting bodice fashioned with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. The skirt, long and full, ended in a court train over which fell the veil of illusion, caught to the head with a chaplet of stephanotis.

The bride carried a superb bouquet of Calla lilies and lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Airport Road.

Mrs. Dodgen wore a black model with draped skirt and a corsage of gardenias. The bride-groom's mother, Mrs. Lance, wore a black and white flowered model with corsage of gardenias.

The bride's table in the dining room was overlaid with white lace cloth and centrally adorned with a beautifully embossed three-tiered wedding cake surmounted with figurines of a bride and groom.

Plaques of Calla lilies were placed at either end of the table. Mrs. B. B. Lewis presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. T. R. Bartlett and Miss June Bartlett, of Alexandria, assisted in serving the confections.

The bride attended Louisiana Polytechnic Institute where she was a member of Theta Upsilon sorority and was vice-president of her class. She was also historian and a member of the Student Union. She received her degree last May from the college of commerce, Louisiana State University.

The bridegroom was recently discharged from the United States army after serving for 15 months in the European theater. He will enter the Art Institute of Pittsburgh in September.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. T. N. Dodgen, El Dorado, Ark.; Mrs. W. J. Nunnaly, Sr., Camden, Ark.; Mr. Norman Nunnally, Camden, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Bartlett and family, Alexandria; Mrs. H. W. Lance and Mr. I. H. Lance, Pittsburgh, Pa.

U. C. T. WILL BE HOST AT MEET

Will Entertain State Convention Here May 17 And 18

The U. C. T. for the states of Louisiana and Mississippi will meet in convention in Monroe May 17 and 18. Headquarters will be opened for the event in Hotel Virginia and it is expected that the convention will be attended by from 250 to 300 persons, stated Mike Tarver, senior counsellor of the local unit. It is hoped to have A. W. Franklin, Columbus, O., supreme secretary, in attendance.

There will be important business matter discussed and a banquet is proposed for the night of May 17 on Hotel Virginia roof.

The local unit will be host to the convention. It has grown rapidly in membership and now numbers a total of 81. A year and a half ago there were but 16 members and the rapid growth is reflective of the unusual interest that is being taken in the U. C. T. hereabouts.

The Monroe unit has the following members: Mike Tarver, senior counsellor; H. L. Huckaby, junnor counsellor; C. B. Hair, secretary; Sid Moore, past senior counsellor; D. C. Harper, conductor; T. P. Hankins, page; N. Crooks, sentinel and A. H. Jones, chaplain.

HARVEY FIELDS, JR., GETS TULANE POST

In a recent election held by the Tulane University College of Law Harvey G. Fields, Jr., a World War II veteran and former member of the army air forces, was elected to the presidency of the law school. The president-elect is a member of the moot court board and of the Phi Delta Phi, an honorary legal fraternity. Fields is the son of Harvey G. Fields, of Farmerville, former United States district attorney.

The new president was only recently awarded an American jurisprudence prize as an outstanding student in leading his class in the course of equity. Young Fields will assume his duties in June.

THIRD FINGER, LEFT HAND . . . a diamond ring from the R AND A. When the time comes for such a purchase you should go to a reputable jeweler in whom you have complete confidence. SAM RUBIN at the R AND A JEWELRY SHOP can tell you the exact karat weight of your stone, the caste of its color, the degree of flawlessness. If your fiance is investing a goodish sum in your diamond engagement ring insist that he consult Monroe's diamond expert . . . SAM RUBIN.

YOUR HEART WILL SING with every breath you draw after you have been fitted to a CHARMODE girdle at SEARS, ROEBUCK AND COMPANY. A CHARMODE permits freedom of motion . . . it's just as comfortable when you bend and recline as when sitting . . . this makes it the most perfect girdle ever worn. A CHARMODE takes inches off the waist, flattens the abdomen and streamlines the figure. No more unsightly bulges and discomfort for women who wear a CHARMODE.

BE READY FOR THE big splash by going right down to FERD LEVI'S for one of those perfect fitting swim suits. You will be charmed and delighted with it. Colorful accessories for picnicing . . . paper cups, napkins, plates and table covers in gay fiesta colors are now ready for you at FERD LEVI'S. New books are arriving daily for summer reading. There's nothing nicer than a gift book for the departing vacationist. A gift of MONTAG'S stationery is also acceptable. It's at FERD LEVI'S.

PAUSE FOR RELAXATION at the CASCADE the next time you go shopping. This swanky cocktail lounge, steadily growing in popularity with men and women is now open at 11 a. m. Your favorite drink, cool and refreshing, is perfectly mixed at the CASCADE and served in manner reminiscent of the old south. It's a pleasure to entertain your out-of-town guest at the CASCADE as you are always assured of correct atmosphere and impeccable service.

IN A HOUSE where you find good food you are certain to find MEL-O-TOAST bread . . . the bread packed with vitamins. Are you getting your rolls hot from the oven every day at 11 a. m. and 4 p. m.? If not you are depriving your family of something that makes the most common-place meal a real feast. They are so delicious, butter isn't necessary to improve the flavor. New breads are continually being introduced in Monroe but MEL-O-TOAST, like the brook, goes on forever.

THE BEST SPRING tonic for women whose spirits are drooping is a beautiful cold wave, facial and manicure at MARIE WAMSLEY'S BEAUTY SALON. This salon, the most up-to-date in the city, permits privacy and complete relaxation. While you lie passive, your beauty becomes actively alive under expert fingers. Your hair, regardless of its condition, can now be beautifully waved by MARIE WAMSLEY'S new process. It is particularly recommended for dyed, bleached or hard to manage hair.

SUMMER HAS DEFINITELY arrived. For those leisure hours ahead there is nothing to take the place of comfortable, well fitting slacks tailored by FINK. The fabrics come in summer colors and best of all, do not wrinkle when you lounge around. Don't wear slacks unless they are tailored by FINK . . . don't run the risk of making yourself look ridiculous in slacks that are not tailored to measurements. And don't take your vacation without at least one of those stunning summer suits tailored by FINK.

THERE IS AN ever increasing trend toward the use of a funeral home for the funeral service. In Monroe the trend is toward the HALL FUNERAL HOME where every detail is carefully attended to. Even the flowers are listed. Use of HALL'S FUNERAL HOME permits the family life at home to continue as normally as possible under the circumstances . . . memories of a funeral are not associated with the family home when arrangements are made with the HALL FUNERAL HOME.

A FASCINATING fillip for mother on Mother's Day is a corsage especially designed for her at the FLOWER SHOPPE. She will love the many distinctive features. She will also appreciate one of those beautiful pot plants. May and June brides are now knee deep in plans for their weddings with all the details cleverly worked out by the FLOWER SHOPPE'S wedding consultant. Don't run the risk of blundering . . . ask the advice of the FLOWER SHOPPE on the subject of flowers and correct details of your wedding.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the economic health of the United States is as important to world peace as understanding and trust among freedom-loving nations, and

WHEREAS, an unhealthy condition now exists throughout this country in the form of thousands of unemployed veterans, particularly those lacking skills and business experience, and

WHEREAS, the Federal Government devised in advance, through a system of educational subsistence allowances, a program for the training of veterans lacking skills and experience, and

WHEREAS, no more fitting memorial could be established in memory of members of the armed forces who made the supreme sacrifice during World War II than full employment of their comrades who survived, and

WHEREAS, establishment of such a memorial is lagging in Ouachita Parish, and

WHEREAS, May is the month of Memorial Day, when the military dead of the nation are justly remembered in words and with flowers.

NOW, THEREFORE, we, A. E. Montgomery, president of the Ouachita Parish Police Jury; H. H. Benoit, mayor of Monroe, and D. C. Golson, mayor of West Monroe, by the powers vested in us, do hereby proclaim the month of May Veterans Employment Month in order to focus attention of the public, particularly employers, on full utilization of apprenticeship and on-the-job subsistence allowances as means of raising the living standard of veterans already employed, of providing jobs for those without work, and of increasing the value of these men and women to their communities and themselves through the training they receive.

TARZAN'S WORDS CHANGED TULA'S SWEETNESS INTO DEMONIC FURY. "YOU---THE REINCARNATION OF RANAK THE BRAVE--REJECT ME?"

"FOOL! YOU, WHO HAVE REFUSED MY LIPS, SHALL FEEL MY CLAWS!"

"IF I CANNOT HAVE YOU, NO OTHER WOMAN SHALL!" TULA SCREAMED, AS THE LEOPARD CHARGED.

BUT SHE UNDERESTIMATED THE APE-MAN'S MIGHT. HE KNEW HOW TO DEAL WITH SAVAGE JUNGLE CREATURES.

HER ANGER SOFTENED BY WONDER AND ADMIRATION, TULA BECAME CONTRITE. "O MAN-GOD, FORGIVE MY ANGER AND LEARN TO LOVE ME," SHE SAID.

AGAIN TARZAN REFUSED GRIMLY. THE VAMPIRE WOMAN, CONSUMED WITH RAGE, SIGNALED BY CLAPPING HER HANDS....

BUT FRED WOULDN'T MIND, HONEY... IT'S NOT BEIN' WEAK TO CRY WHEN A THING LIKE THIS HAPPENS...

OH, I'M NOT BRAVE- IT'S NOT THAT, ANNIE! I JUST CAN'T CRY, SOMEHOW... NOT YET, ANYWAY...

GEE... AFTER WHAT FRED'S PAL, JOE BURL, TOLD... ...WELL... I WENT OUT BACK O' TH' BARN AND HAD ME A GOOD CRY...

OH, ANNIE... YOU'RE ONE OF US... YOU SURELY ARE... TO FEEL THAT WAY...

BUT I DON'T CARE WHAT JOE TOLD... I... I STILL CAN'T BELIEVE IT'S REALLY TRUE...

BUT, HONEY... I KNOW HOW YOU'VE HOPED AND PRAYED AND ALL... BUT NOW... WELL... WE'VE GOT TO FACE TH' FACTS SOMETIME...

FRED WAS HURT AWFUL BAD... AND WHEN TH' JAPS MADE 'EM MARCH... ...HE WAS ONE OF TH' MEN WHO JUST COULDN'T KEEP UP... AND TH' SHOTS, BACK ON TH' TRAIL...

IT'S AWFUL TO HAVE TO HEAR 'BOUT IT... BUT IT'S BEST TO KNOW... AND FRED... HE'S NOT SUFFERING ANY MORE... THINK OF THAT...

FRED ISN'T DEAD... HE GOT AWAY... SOME WAY... I'LL NEVER GIVE UP HOPE!

LOOK, JOE! YOU KNOW SOMETHIN' MORE... YOU CAN TELL ME... LET'S HAVE TH' REST...

WELL, THERE ISN'T MUCH MORE- THE FEW OF US WHO LIVED WERE PRISONERS FOR A SPELL...

THEN OUR GUYS GOT THROUGH TO US... SOON AS I GOT A CHANCE I WENT BACK FOR A LOOK ALONG THAT JUNGLE TRAIL...

YEAH? WELL, WHAT DID YOU FIND? ANY TRACE O' FRED?

HOW COULD I TELL, BY THEN? BUT THE POOR GUY DIDN'T HAVE A CHANCE, EVEN IF HE COULD HAVE CRAWLED INTO THE JUNGLE...

WHY, NO HEALTHY WHITE MAN EVER CAME OUT OF THAT SWAMP ALIVE... AND FRED WAS HIT BAD... IT JUST WASN'T POSSIBLE...

THERE'S ALWAYS GOT TO BE A FIRST MAN TO DO THE IMPOSSIBLE... FRED MADE IT... SOMEHOW...

FRED USED TO TALK ABOUT HOW YOU WERE A GIRL WHO'D STAND BY HER MAN, NO MATTER WHAT... I THOUGHT HE EXAGGERATED... WELL... HE SURE DIDN'T!

WELL, IF I WERE LOST FRED NEVER WOULD GIVE UP EITHER...

---AN' WHEN I WAS LIAISON OFFICER BETWEEN THE AAF AND THE INFANTRY--- THERE I WAS, ALONE IN A FOX-HOLE---

---MY GUN JAMMED AND SUDDENLY EIGHT JERRIES LUNGED AT ME WITH FIXED BAYONETS---

ER--- PARDON ME, HUBBA HUBBA HUBERT--- I MUST GO NOW--- ER--- GOTTA CATCH TH' NEXT BALLOON TO CHICAGO!

SMILIN' JACK

WHEW! THAT HUBBA HUBBA HUBERT! OH MY ACHIN' EARS!

MISTER STRETCH, AS AUDITOR OF THIS COMPANY, I BEG YOU TO TRY TO MAKE YOUR OLDER BROTHERS STOP DRAWING ON OUR RESERVE FUNDS!

I'VE TRIED, MR. EYE-KYME, BUT I CAN'T MAKE THEM STOP SHOWERING CINDY WITH EXPENSIVE GIFTS!

EACH ONE IS TRYING TO WIN CINDY AT ANY COST--- AN' TH' COST WILL BE BANKRUPTCY!

JACK, WHAT ARE YOU DOING WITH ALL THAT BEAUTIFUL LUGGAGE?

WHY--- IT'S A MAY DAY GIFT FOR YOU, CINDY DEAR!

MAY DAY GIFT? ---THAT'S ALL!!! I'M SURPRISED YOU FORGOT ME ON GROUND-HOG DAY!

LISTEN, JACK--- YOU AND REX MUST STOP GIVING ME THESE LAVISH GIFTS!! IT'S POSITIVELY EMBARRASSING!

BUT, CINDY--- I'M ONLY DOING IT TO PROVE HOW MUCH YOU MEAN TO ME!

OH, WHO IS THAT DRIVING UP IN THAT BEAUTIFUL CONVERTIBLE? --- WHY, IT'S--- REX!

REX, THIS IS A BEAUTIFUL CAR--- IS IT YOURS?

NO, CINDY, IT'S YOURS!

MINE? --- THAT'S THE LAST STRAW!

DON'T YOU LIKE IT? IT'S JUST A LITTLE FOURTH OF JULY GIFT I PICKED UP FOR YOU. I BOUGHT IT NOW WHILE I HAD TH' OPPORTUNITY!

HERE! YOU SILLY LUGS, I'M RETURNING ALL YOUR GIFTS EXCEPT THIS ONE SUITCASE --- I'M GOING ON A TRIP!

---AND WON'T BE BACK UNTIL YOU TWO GREY-HAIRED KIDS STOP THIS STUPID FEUD AN' GROW UP!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Yooo

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, DEAR UNCLE ED HAPPY

WOT IF IT IS HER UNCLE ED'S BIRTHDAY? IF I WANTED TO GO OUT TONIGHT, UNCLE WILLIE, I'D GO!

NOT IF YOU WAS MARRIED TO YER AUNT MAMIE, YOU WOULDN'T.

WHAM!

BAM!

WHY, YOU WORM!

HO!

HO HO HO! THAT'S TH' FUNNIEST THING I EVER SEEN.

OH!

SO-

WOP! POP! BOP!

SO YOU THINK THAT'S FUNNY, DO YOU, GAL?

THE GUMPS

MRS GUMP! FOR PETE'S SAKE, CAN'T YOU STOP MR GUMP BEFORE THIS HOUSE CAVES IN?

YOU'RE RIGHT, TILDA - HE'S WEAKENING THE FOUNDATIONS OF OUR HOUSE WITH HIS INFERNAL DIGGING!

HE'S TRACKING DIRT ALL THROUGH HERE - JUST BECAUSE HE FOUND SOME MUDDY LITTLE PIECES OF YELLOW METAL HE THINKS IS GOLD!

OH, THAT MAN!

DIGGING - DIGGING - DIGGING! DAY AND NIGHT, LIKE A DEMENTED MOLE!

OH, MIN! LOOK! ANOTHER PIECE! WE'VE STRUCK IT RICH! RICH, I TELL YOU!!

GOTTA BE CALM AND THINK THIS OUT - MUST PLEDGE MIN AND TILDA TO ABSOLUTE SECRECY!

LET'S SEE - I FOUND THE FIRST PIECE OF GOLD HERE - THE SECOND, OVER THERE - HM - I SEE -

I HAVE A HUNCH THE VEIN RUNS OFF THROUGH THE PROPERTY BEYOND MINE - THE OLD HIGGLEBY SWAMP!!

BOY, OH BOY! THAT SWAMP MUD'S PROBABLY OOZING GOLD!

HAVE TO GET TITLE TO THE OLD HIGGLEBY SWAMP - BUT, I'VE GOTTA BE CAGEY ABOUT IT -

YES, MR PROSPER - I'M STRIKING WHILE THE IRON'S HOT - THERE'S AN ACUTE HOUSING SHORTAGE - THE OLD SWAMP WOULD MAKE AN IDEAL DEVELOPMENT -
